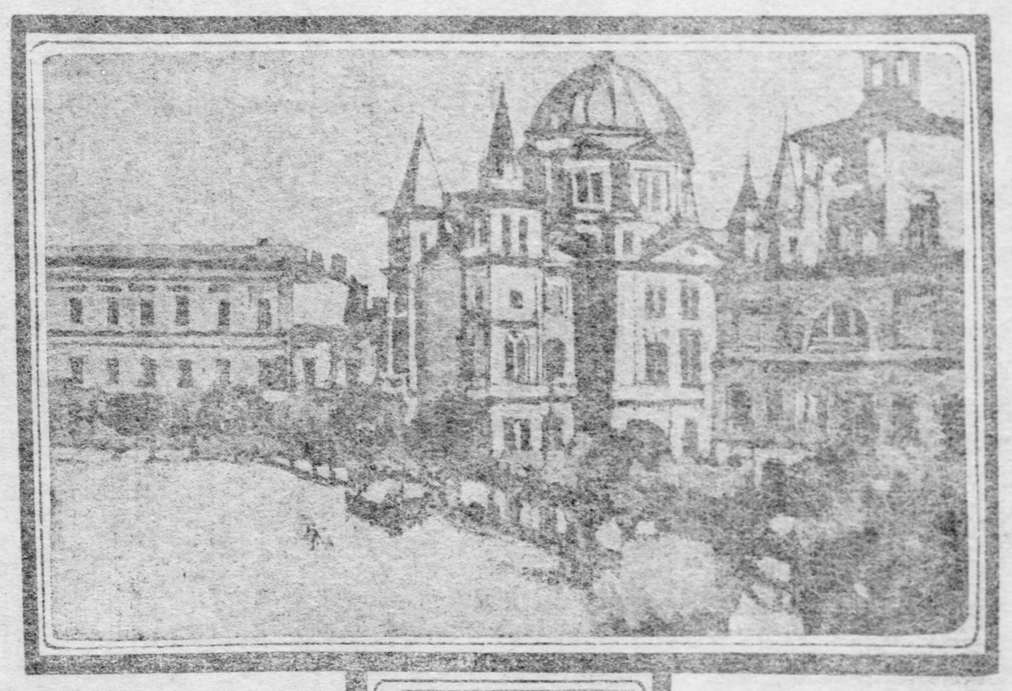
TWELVE THOUSAND PERSONS FLEE FROM LODZ



Church of the Holy Trinity, on the Principal Square of Lodz, and Gen. Maximovitch, the Governor General.

MANY SHOT DEAD IN THE STREETS

Mob Violence and Cossack Raids Still Continue in Russian Poland.

FAMILY SLAIN IN CARRIAGE

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

LODZ, RUSSIAN POLAND, June 25.—Twelve thousand terror-stricken persons have already left Lodz on account of the rioting and many more thousands are seeking exits from the city. All trains out of the city are crowded and there was a general exodus today.

Mob violence continues in the suburbs, though the most serious fighting between the military and strikers has ceased. At Baluty this morning Cossacks attacked a Jewish family of five persons who were driving in a cab to the railway station and shot and killed all, including the cabman. At Pabianice, near Lodz, workmen attacked two policemen and shot and killed one and wounded the other.

During the disturbances 35 government liquor stores were destroyed by the mobs which appropriated all the cash and stamps found on the premises. The cash and stamps were added to the funds of the Socialist party. The workmen in all the factories will strike tomorrow.

Some prominent citizens this morning telegraphed Gen. Shustow, commanding the troops here, asking for protection against the brutality of the soldiers, especially the Cossacks, who in one instance killed and robbed the servant of a millionaire named Rosenblatt, who was carrying $5,000 to the bank. The general promised to punish the offenders, but said he required witnesses of the occurrence to testify against the Cossacks.

WARSAW, June 25.—The proclamation issued yesterday by the Social Democratic party of Poland and Lithuania calling out workmen as a protest against the Lodz massacre, declares that in order to show the solidarity of their brethren and to protest against "the new and incessant crimes of the emperor's government," all Warsaw must stop work tomorrow. The proclamation orders that not a single factory or workshop shall be operated and that offices, shops, restaurants and coffee houses must close and all traffic must cease. It says that the red flag, the flag of the workingmen, must float in the streets of Warsaw and calls upon all workmen to help their brothers arrange a general strike.

The military is patrolling the streets in the factory and Jewish districts tonight. In the suburb of Praga today workmen shot and wounded two policemen. In Ogrodowa street there was an encounter between gendarmes and a crowd and shots were fired on both sides. Three civilians and one gendarme were wounded. In other streets processions of workmen were dispersed.

THIS TELEGRAPHER IS PURSUED BY WRECKS

Same Operator Who Witnessed Ashtabula Disaster Saw the Smash-Up at Mentor.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CLEVELAND, O., June 25.—As the result of Coroner Sigelstein's efforts to solve the mystery of the open switch at Mentor, which was the cause of the wrecking of the Twentieth Century Limited last Wednesday, it was learned today that C. J. Minor, the telegrapher on duty at the Mentor station, is the same operator who was in charge of the station at Ashtabula when another passenger train was wrecked.

This wreck occurred four months ago and resulted in five deaths. The circumstances are identical with those of the disaster at Mentor. Fireman Gorham told the coroner Minor was at Ashtabula on the occasion of the former wreck, and since then was transferred to Mentor. He also declared the road men have complained frequently of the location of the switch stand of the siding, because a water tank obstructs a clear view of it.

No attention was paid to these complaints, and Engineer Tyler of the wrecked train attempted to stop the instant the switch came plainly in view, as is shown by the sand on the track. Engineers when called upon to use the emergency brake first pull the sand lever in order to avoid the possibility of the wheels sliding.

Drowned in the Mahoning.

WARREN, O., June 25.—(Special.)—Kent O. Brown was drowned in the Mahoning river here this morning through the overturning of the boat. Charles Harrington, who was with him, finally reached the shore.

WARRING NATIONS SELECT ENVOYS

Mr. Otaghira, Japan's Consul at Shanghai, Will Act for the Mikado.

CZAR ALSO SUBMITS NAMES

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

LONDON, June 26.—The correspondent of the Morning Post at Shanghai says:

"Mr. Odigari, the Japanese consul here, has been recalled. He leaves Tuesday in order to proceed to Washington as one of the peace plenipotentiaries."

WASHINGTON, June 25.—(Special.)—Russia has transmitted to the president the names of her plenipotentiaries who are to meet those of Japan in Washington to discuss peace. The names of the plenipotentiaries are not obtainable tonight. That M. Nelidoff, Russian ambassador to France, will be one, and Baron Rosen, the newly appointed ambassador to the United States, the other, is generally believed to be the fact.

President Roosevelt has given up hope that an armistice will be concluded before the plenipotentiaries meet.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 26.—Negotiations for the peace conference have taken an important step forward, a proposition for the date of the meeting of the plenipotentiaries at Washington having been submitted to Russia and being now under consideration. The exact data proposed has not been ascertained, but there is reason to suppose it is some time during the first week or ten days of August.

The emperor's answer is not expected for a day or two, but it is thought the date will be satisfactory, as it will give ample time for M. Nelidoff, the Russian ambassador at Paris, or other Russian negotiators to reach Washington.

Whether the proposal regarding the date originated at Tokyo or at Washington cannot be learned, but the fact that the negotiations were conducted through Ambassador Meyer may indicate that President Roosevelt has perhaps again stepped to the fore and suggested to the two powers, neither of whom would be willing to take the initiative, a suitable date.

Ambassador Meyer is still exchanging communications with foreign Minister Lamsdorff by letter, the minister being confined to his apartments in the ministry. In his latest note Count Lamsdorff expressed the hope he would have sufficiently recovered to permit of personal exchange of views today.

M. Neratoff, under minister of foreign affairs and the spokesman of the foreign office, in an interview in the Gazeta declares an armistice pending the meeting of the plenipotentiaries is improbable, and he comments on the possibility of a battle taking place before a conference is held.

CRUISER WRECKS STEAMER.

Passengers Are Taken on Board the Warship When Disabled Ship Starts to Leak.

FERROL, SPAIN, June 25.—The British cruiser Carnarvon ran down the North German Lloyd steamer Coblenz in a dense fog at 4 o'clock this morning, off Cape Prior on the northwest coast of Spain. The Coblenz was badly damaged and sprung a leak.

The passengers were transferred to the cruiser, which towed the liner here. The injury to the cruiser was trifling, but the Coblenz will have to go into drydock.

BUSINESS PROPERTY BURNING AT CLEVELAND

CLEVELAND, O., June 26.—Fire broke out shortly before 2 o'clock this morning in the heart of the wholesale district at the southwest corner of St. Clair street and North Water street, completely gutting the Willard Storage Battery Company building, doing $50,000 damage. Fairbanks, Morse & Co.'s building is also on fire, and unless checked shortly, a fierce conflagration will ensue.

SHARON INDUSTRY IS DESTROYED BY FIRE

SHARON, PA., June 25.—(Special.)—The local plant of the Damascus Brake Beam Company was destroyed by fire tonight with a loss of over $50,000. Valuable machinery and patterns were destroyed. The Erie railroad lost several cars. About 40 men are thrown out of employment.

THREE BOYS AND ONE MAN DROWN WHILE BATHING

Son of Alderman Oyer Is One of the Victims—Lifeguard Makes Strenuous Efforts to Save Him Mother Is Prostrated.

Three boys and one man were drowned while bathing in the rivers in Allegheny county yesterday and none of their bodies was recovered. They were:

CHARLES OYER, aged 17, 1027 Fifth avenue, son of Alderman C. F. Oyer, drowned in the Monongahela river at lock No. 1.

ROBERT CONNELLY, aged 47, 1317 Wylie avenue, drowned in the Monongahela river at the Tenth Street bridge.

AN UNKNOWN NEGRO BOY, drowned in the Monongahela river below lock No. 1.

PAUL PUSEPOR, aged 10, of Coraopolis, drowned in the Ohio river at that place.

The drowning of young Oyer was witnessed last evening by 1,000 men and boys. Policeman Patrick Manion, who is stationed at lock No. 1 as a lifeguard, saw Oyer was seized with cramps. He rowed to where the boy was struggling in the water, but the boy sank just as he reached him. The swimmer never came to the surface again. Manion dived after him, but was unable to find him under the water.

Oyer was considered a good swimmer. He was employed by the Central District and Printing Telephone Company. Word was sent to his parents, and his mother was prostrated when she heard of his death.

Connelly was an expert swimmer. He entered the water in the morning at lock No. 1 and swam across the channel. In crossing he was carried down the river by the current for half a mile. When he started to swim across the stream he drifted to the Tenth Street bridge and sank in midstream. He is survived by his widow and three children.

The young negro was seen by a number of men and boys to sink below lock No. 1 last evening. He was out in the stream and disappeared before the lifeguard was able to get to him.

Paul Pusepor of Coraopolis went bathing with a friend, Joseph Gattle. The boy was carried by the current out into the river and sank, calling for aid. His companion was the only witness to the accident, and he became frightened and did not notify the boy's parents of his death until two hours later.

Two lifeguards will be stationed at lock No. 1 in the future. Police Superintendent Wallace last night deplored the accident at that pool, but said Guard Manion did all he possibly could to save young Oyer's life.

LESLIE NOT AN OPPONENT

Says Proposition on Rules Is Up to the Country Districts.

GOOD MAY RESULT

Commissioner Clark Is Hunting a Self-Sacrificing Running Mate.

GUFFEY WATCHING GORDON

Efforts will be made to have a meeting of the Republican joint rules committee today. If the members cannot be gotten together this afternoon the first conference will be held tomorrow. Chairman W. A. Magee is anxious to complete the work not later than Friday.

M. G. Leslie, chairman of the Republican city committee, says he will reappoint his rules conferees today. They are F. C. Beinhauer, John B. Barbour, Jr., and W. M. Benham. Allegheny and McKeesport will be represented by the same men who have taken part in the joint conferences in the past. In speaking of the proposed changes in the party laws Chairman Leslie said:

"If the country districts show anything like a unanimous desire to have a change made in the system of nominating there will be no organized opposition on the part of the city organization. I cannot see how there would be any detrimental results from a trial of the plan, and there may be some advantages. If the new rules will cause more activity or bring new thought into the party, they should be adopted. I have heard of no organized effort to pledge members of the county committee from Pittsburgh against the rules."

They Want Suggestions.

Republican County Chairman T. J. Ford and Chairman Magee of the rules committee invite suggestions from Republicans concerning the changes in the rules. It will be easier to make alterations before the committee decides on the report. The Magee, Tredway and Thomas drafts of rules are the ones the committee will take for their basis in determining what amendments will be offered to the county committee for adoption. Already there is some discussion about the date for the primaries. The Magee amendments provide for an election in June. There are advocates of allowing the county committee to decide each year when the primaries will be held. If this should be done the rules would compel the county committee to meet in January to fix the date, and it would be necessary to give at least three months' notice. There is also some talk of having the primaries in September. Those who favor this plan argue the candidates would then receive the benefit in the fall election of the prestige gotten by winning their nominations by a popular vote. Mr. Magee favors a fixed date for the primaries.

Democrats Are Dodging.

The Democratic fusion managers are having trouble over finding a Citizens colleague for James A. Clark, the Democratic nominee for county commissioner. Mr. Clark is in an unpleasant position. He is asking for a fourth term as commissioner, something extremely unusual in a county where ordinarily the Democrats receive no plums save those falling to the party under the provisions of minority representation acts. Because of Mr. Clark's manipulation of party rules until he has absolute control of the nominating machine, other Democrats who think they would make good commissioners have been frozen out. An opportunity to secure revenge is presented this fall. With Republican victory certain, Mr. Clark has a hard fight on his hands to win the minority commissionership. He fears his enemies will plump for his fusion running mate and when the returns come in the $6,000 per annum job will be the property of his colleague.

In the fusion conferences the Democrats have made a play for the labor vote by insisting a trades union representative be put on the ticket. The Citizens showed a willingness to agree, but thought the man should be named for commissioner. The Democrats objected and say if a labor representative is nominated it must be for prothonotary. AUTO SCARES HORSE; THREE ARE INJURED

Christopher C. Wivagg, His Wife and Child Are Victims of Ugly Runaway.

As the result of a runaway on the State road near McKeesport at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon, three persons were seriously injured, a horse had to be shot and a buggy was wrecked. The injured are:

CHRISTOPHER C. WIVAGG, aged 47, head cut, arm broken and internal injuries feared.

MRS. EMMA WIVAGG, his wife, aged 46, foot fractured, head cut, severe bruises; suffering from shock; may be injured internally.

ELMER WIVAGG, their son, aged 9 years, right leg broken, cuts and bruises about face and body; possible internal injuries.

The mother and son are at the McKeesport hospital and the father is at his farm house. Wivagg is an ex-fireman of McKeesport and yesterday afternoon started for a drive with his wife and son. The boy coaxed his father to let him drive for a short distance. The lad had hardly taken the reins and was rounding a curve in the road when an automobile came along. The animal took fright and dashed out the road.

Wivagg reached for the lines and as he did so the wheels struck a rut and he toppled out of the vehicle. Mrs. Wivagg called on her son to jump at the same time doing so herself. The boy's feet became entangled in the lines and he was dragged over the rough road. His feet finally became disentangled and he was left bruised and bleeding on the road.

The horse ran for a quarter of a mile and crashed into a tree, injuring itself so badly that it had to be shot.

Mr. Wivagg, although painfully injured, assisted his wife and boy to a farm house and summoned the ambulance of the McKeesport hospital. A physician accompanied the ambulance and dressed his injuries and he was taken to his home at Thompson Run.

A woman in an automobile that passed the runaway fainted at the sight.

FLOOD OF IMMIGRATION CONTINUES TO INCREASE

Record for June Exceeds May, and Census Office Approximates Total for the Year at 1,061,659.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, June 25.—Streams of immigrants continue to pour into New York through Ellis Island, breaking all previous records. More than 77,000 immigrants have landed at Ellis Island since June 1, and the official estimate up to the end of the month is 84,000, as against 31,731 in June of last year, an even larger proportionate increase than in May.

The census office approximates the total immigration for the fiscal year at 1,061,659, which indicates a record-breaker, the high water mark being 857,046 for the year ended June 30, 1903. For the fiscal year of 1904 the figures were 812,870.

There has been little change in the general character of the immigrants in the fiscal year about to close. Lithuanians and Bohemians have been rushing here, mainly to work in the coal mines. Poles and Russians come and scatter throughout the country, many settling in sweatshops. Italians crowd in to do manual labor. Swedes and Greeks find their way to the northwest. There are fewer Germans than of former years and Ireland seems to have been pretty thoroughly drained.

CASSINI READY TO GO.

He Will Sail for Russia July 11, After Presenting His Letters of Recall to the President.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 25.—Count Cassini, the Russian ambassador, has engaged passage for July 11 from New York. The ambassador will probably remain in Washington to await the arrival of his successor, Baron Rosen, who lands in New York July 6. Count Cassini will then go to New York for a few days, and thence to Oyster Bay, there to present his letters of recall to the president.

FOUR YOUNG CHILDREN SHOT DEAD BY MOTHER

GRAND LAKE, COL., June 25.—Mrs. Watt C. Gregg shot and killed her four young children and attempted to take her own life today. The woman is in a critical condition from a wound in the side. Mrs. Gregg has shown signs of mental aberration.

VICTOR H. METCALF.

As secretary of the department of commerce and labor, he will enforce the order of the president that Chinese immigrants of the exempt class be given courteous treatment by immigration officers.

SQUARE DEAL FOR CHINESE

Mr. Roosevelt Directs That Harsh Treatment Must Cease.

INSTRUCTIONS GIVEN

The President Declares Immigrant Officials Must Not Be Discourteous.

SENDS ORDERS TO CONSULS

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, June 25.—By direction of President Roosevelt, action has been taken by the administration which not only will facilitate the landing in this country of Chinese of the exempt classes, but also will eliminate from the immigration bureau such administrative features as have been the subject of criticism by Chinese. It is the declared intention of the president to see that Chinese merchants, travelers, students and others of the exempt classes shall have the same courtesy shown them by officers of the immigration bureau as is accorded to citizens of the most favored nation.

Representations have been made to the president that, in view of alleged harsh treatment accorded to many Chinese seeking a landing in the United States, the commercial guilds of China have determined to institute a boycott on American manufactures. These representations, backed by the authority of the American Asiatic society and commercial bodies throughout the country induced the president to make an investigation of the situation with a view to remedying the evils complained of, if they were found to exist. The subject was discussed thoroughly by the cabinet and the president took it up personally with Secretary Metcalf of the department of commerce and labor, who has supervision of the immigration bureau.

Harsh Treatment Not Tolerated.

As a result of the inquiry orders have been issued to the diplomatic and consular representatives of the United States in China by the president himself that they must look closely to the performance of their duties under the exclusion law and see to it that members of the exempt classes coming to this country are provided with proper certificates. These certificates will be accepted at any port of the United States and will guarantee the bearer against any harsh or discourteous treatment. Such treatment, indeed, will be the cause of the instant dismissal of the offending official, whoever he may be.

In addition to the president's orders, Secretary Metcalf has issued instructions to the immigration officers which, it is believed, will remedy the difficulty heretofore complained of by the Chinese government and individuals. It is anticipated that the prompt action taken by this government to meet the objections made by the Chinese will eliminate the possibility of serious trade difficulties between China and the manufacturers of this country.

The text of the official correspondence and orders on the subject was made public today by authority of President Roosevelt. The president's orders to the diplomatic and consular officers of this country in China were transmitted through the state department and are as follows:

Instructions to Consuls.

"The White House, June 24.

"To the Secretary of State:

"The state department will immediately issue a circular to all our diplomatic and consular representatives in China setting forth the following facts and stating that it is issued by direct order of the president:

"Under the laws of the United States and in accordance with the spirit of the treaties negotiated between the United States and China all Chinese of the coolie or laboring class—that is, all Chinese laborers, skilled or unskilled—are absolutely prohibited from coming to the United States, but the purpose of the government of the United States is to show the widest and heartiest courtesy toward all merchants, teachers, students and travelers who may come to the United States, as well as toward all Chinese officials or representatives in any capacity of the Chinese government. All individuals of these classes are allowed to come and go of their own free will and accord and are to be given all the rights, privileges, immunities and exemptions accorded the citizens and subjects of the most favored nation. The president has issued special instructions through the secretary of commerce and labor that while laborers must be strictly excluded, the law must be enforced without harshness, and that all unnecessary inconvenience and annoyance toward those persons entitled to enter the United States must be scrupulously avoided. The officials of the immigration department have been told that no harshness in the administration of the law will for a moment be tolerated, and that any discourtesy shown to Chinese persons by any official of the government will be cause for immediate dismissal from the service.

Must Know the Facts.

"The status of those Chinese entitled freely to enter the United States is primarily determined by the certificate provided for under section 6 of the act of July 5, 1884. Under this law the diplomatic and consular representatives of the United States have by direction of the president been instructed before indorsing any certificate strictly to comply with the requirements of that portion of section 6 which provides as follows:

"'And such diplomatic representative or consular representative whose indorsement is so required is hereby empowered, and it shall be his duty, before indorsing such certificate as aforesaid, to examine into the truth of the statements set forth in said certificate, and if he shall find upon examination that said or any of the statements therein contained are untrue it shall be his duty to refuse to indorse the same.'

"The certificate thus viseed thus becomes prima facie evidence of the facts set forth therein. The immigration officials have now been specifically instructed to accept this certificate, which is not to be upset unless good reason can be shown for so doing. Unfortunately, in the past it has been found that officials of the Chinese government have recklessly issued thousands of such certificates, which were not true, and recklessness has also been shown in the past by representatives of the American consular service in vising these certificates. The purpose of this government is to make these viseed certificates of such real value that it is safe to accept them here in the United States." This will result in doing away with most of the causes of complaint that have arisen.

THE PRESIDENT ORDERS SQUARE DEAL FOR CHINESE

Consular Officers Responsible.

"The Chinese student, merchant or traveler will thereby secure before leaving China a certificate which will guarantee him against any improper treatment. But in order that this plan may be carried out it is absolutely necessary that the diplomatic and consular officers instead of treating their work in viseing these certificates as perfunctory, shall understand that this is one of their most important functions. They must not issue any such certificates unless they are satisfied that the person to whom it is issued is entitled to receive it, and they will be held to a most rigid accountability for the manner in which they perform this duty. If there is reason to believe that any certificate has been improperly issued, or is being improperly used, a thorough investigation will be made into its issuance.

"The only way in which it is possible, while fully carrying out the provision of the law against the immigration of Chinese laborers, skilled or unskilled, to secure the fullest courtesy and consideration for all Chinese persons of the exempt classes, such as officials, travelers, merchants, students and the like, is through the careful and conscientious action of our diplomatic and consular representatives under the proposed policy of the department of commerce and labor. The change will simplify the whole administration of the law; but it cannot be made permanent unless the diplomatic and consular representatives do their full duty and see to it that no certificate is issued with their vise unless the person receiving it clearly comes within one of the exempt classes and is fully entitled to the privileges the certificate secures for him.

"Accordingly all our diplomatic and consular representatives in China are warned to perform this most important duty with the utmost care.

"THEODORE ROOSEVELT."

Metcalf Lays Down the Law.

These orders are supplemented by a letter to the president from Secretary Metcalf setting out the provisions of the law under which the bureau of immigration operates in relation to Chinese immigrants and by the new instructions issued to immigration officers regarding their treatment of Chinese who may come to the United States. The president and Secretary Metcalf believe that the instructions will insure to Chinese the same fair and courteous treatment that is accorded to people of other nationalities. Secretary Metcalf's letter to the president and his instructions to the immigration officers follow:

WASHINGTON, June 24, 1905.

The President:

Referring to the matter of the enforcement of the Chinese exclusion laws, I have the honor to advise you that I have gone thoroughly into the questions raised and that I find the situation to be as follows:

For the purpose of considering the operation of the exclusion laws, Chinese subjects coming to the United States may be arbitrarily divided into two classes, viz.:

First. Registered Chinese laborers who are returning to the United States within one year after departure therefrom.

Second. Chinese subjects being merchants, teachers, students or travelers for curiosity or pleasure, who are allowed to enter the United States and to come and go therein of their free will and are accorded all the rights, privileges, immunities and exemptions which are accorded to the citizens and subjects of the most favored nation. If in possession of what, for the sake of convenience, is generally known as section 6 certificates, unless they have resided as such in the United States and have returned thereto, in which case they may present other evidence than such certificate of their right to admission.

Requirements of the Law.

Section 6 of the act of May 6, 1882, as amended by the act of July 5, 1884, now in force and effect, provides, in effect, that every Chinese person other than a laborer who may be entitled by treaty or laws to come within the United States and who shall be about to come to the United States, shall obtain the permission of and be identified as so entitled by the Chinese government of such other foreign government, of which at the time such Chinese person shall be a subject, in each case to be evidenced by a certificate to be issued by such government. The law requires that this certificate shall be in the English language and shall show such permission with the name of the permitted person in his or her proper signatures; that the certificate shall state the individual, family and tribal name in full, title or official rank, if any, the age, height and all physical peculiarities, former and present occupation or profession, when and where and how long pursued, the place of residence or the person to whom the certificate is issued, and that such person is entitled by law to come within the United States.

If the person so applying is a merchant, the certificate must state in addition to the above requirements the nature, character and estimated value of the business carried on by him prior to and at the time of his application as aforesaid.

If the certificate be sought for the purpose of travel for curiosity it must also state whether the applicant intends to pass through or travel within the United States, together with his financial standing in the country from which such certificate is desired. The law further provides as follows:

The certificate provided for in this act, and the identity of the person named therein, shall, before such person goes on board any vessel to proceed to the United States, be viseed by the indorsement of the diplomatic representative of the United States in the foreign country from which such certificate issues, or of the consular representative of the United States at the port or place from which the person named in the certificate is about to depart; and such diplomatic representative or consular representative whose indorsement is so required is hereby empowered, and it shall be his duty, before indorsing such certificate as aforesaid, to examine into the truth of the statements set forth in said certificate and if he shall find upon examination that said or any of the statements contained therein are untrue it shall be his duty to refuse to indorse the same.

Some Privileged Laborers.

Such certificate vised as aforesaid shall be prima facie evidence of the facts set forth therein and shall be produced to the collector of customs of the port in the district in the United States at which the person named therein shall arrive, and if forwards produced to the proper authorities of the United States whenever lawfully demanded, and shall be the sole evidence permissible on the part of the persons so producing the same to establish a right to entry into the United States, but said certificate may be controverted and the facts therein stated disproved by the United States authorities.

Although neither the treaty nor the laws make provision in terms for the extension of transit privileges to laborers, such privileges are, as a matter of fact, accorded Chinese laborers by regulation of the department. That is to say, exercising the general authority conferred by law to enact regulations, the department permits Chinese laborers to pass through the country under suitable restrictions and proper safeguards. No specific regulation has thus far been deemed necessary in order to extend transit privileges to the second or exempt class, for the reason that they are permitted by law to come and go of their own free will and accord when in possession of the section six certificate. As to the harsh and unreasonable treatment which it is said has been accorded members of the exempt classes, this much may be said: What are known as section six certificates were universally accepted and the landing of Chinese subjects possessing them facilitated in every way. It became apparent to the officers of the service that these certificates were being issued by the hundreds to Chinese laborers and other persons not entitled to them under the law. In order to administer the laws it then became necessary to investigate each individual case as by law authorized.

It is of course possible that the officers of the service were overzealous in their efforts to prevent the entry of Chinese laborers on fraudulent certificates. But the fact remains that the source of the trouble was the lax methods of the Chinese and other officials charged with issuing and viseing these certificates.

Remedy Is Suggested.

So much as to the conditions. As to the remedy, I have the honor to recommend that there be issued to the diplomatic representatives of the United States in China instructions that before they vise certificates they comply strictly with the requirements of that portion of section 6 which provides as follows:

"And such diplomatic representative or consular representative whose indorsement is so required is hereby empowered, and it shall be his duty, before indorsing such certificate as aforesaid, to examine into the truth of the statements set forth in said certificate and if he shall find upon examination that said or any of the statements contained therein are untrue it shall be his duty to refuse to indorse same."

In keeping with this suggestion I have the honor to advise you that I shall issue instructions to the officers of the service to facilitate the landing of all Chinese subjects in possession of such certificates. In this connection I invite your attention to a class of Chinese subjects who are neither laborers on the one hand, nor teachers, students, merchants, or travellers on the other, such for instance as doctors, lawyers, clergymen, etc. While the department is without authority in the absence of appropriate legislation to extend to members of this latter class the same privileges which are now by law extended to teachers, students, merchants and travelers, yet it is clearly within the power of the department to extend to them the privilege of transit, under suitable regulation. This the department will do at an early date. Respectfully,

V. H. METCALF, Secretary.

Immigration Officers Instructed.

The instructions to immigration officers follow:

Department of Commerce and Labor:

Department circular No. 81, bureau of immigration. To all officers charged with the enforcement of the Chinese exclusion laws and all others whom it may concern:

The attention of all officers charged with the enforcement of the Chinese exclusion laws is directed to department circular No. 80, issued under date of June 24, 1905. Under the provisions of the treaty and laws in relation to the exclusion of Chinese persons, officials of the Chinese government and teachers, students, travelers for curiosity or pleasure, merchants and their lawful wives and minor children, when in possession of the certificate required by section 6 of the act of July 5, 1884, must be allowed to come and go of their own free will and accord and must be accorded all the rights, privileges and immunities and exemptions which are accorded to the citizens and subjects of the most favored nation.

The purpose of this Chinese exclusion laws is to prevent the immigration of Chinese laborers and not to restrict the freedom of movement of Chinese persons belonging to the exempt classes, and in determining whether Chinese persons are laborers or members of the exempt classes, officers charged with the enforcement of the laws are cautioned to act with discretion. While laborers must be strictly excluded the law must be enforced without harshness and unnecessary inconvenience or annoyance must not be caused such persons as are entitled to enter the United States. Persons whose appearance or situation clearly indicate that they do not belong to the class of laborers must be treated with the same consideration extended to members of any other nationality, and they are not under any circumstances to be subjected to unnecessary surveillance.

Purposes of the Law.

The department holds that the purposes and intent of the Chinese exclusion laws are to absolutely prevent the coming to the United States of laborers, skilled or unskilled. The certificate provided for under section 6 of the act of 1884, viseed by the indorsement of the diplomatic representatives of the United States in the foreign country from which the certificate issues, or of the consular representatives of the United States at the port or place from which the person named in the certificate is about to depart, is by said section 6 made prima facie evidence of the facts set forth therein. The diplomatic and consular representatives of the United States have, by direction of the president, been instructed, before viseing any certificate, to strictly comply with all the requirements of that portion of section 6 which provides as follows:

Attention is also called to the fact that under rule 42, Chinese persons, other than laborers, not supplied with the certificate provided for by section 6 of the act of July 5, 1884, may be permitted to pass through the United States in transit upon producing to the officer in charge of the enforcement of the Chinese exclusion laws at the port of arrival, such reasonable proof as may be required to satisfy him that a bona fide transit only is intended. Attention is especially called to the fact that Chinese persons, other than laborers, in possession of a section 6 certificate, will not be required to give bond, or furnish a photograph, or submit to the physical examination required by the Bertillion system of identification.

"And such diplomatic representative or consular representative whose indorsement is so required is hereby empowered, and it shall be his duty, before indorsing such certificate as aforesaid, to examine into the truth of the statements set forth, in said certificate, and if he shall find upon examination that said or any of the statements contained therein are untrue it shall be his duty to refuse to indorse the same."

You are therefore instructed to accept as evidence of the right of the holder to land, certificates vised by the American diplomatic or consular representatives when such certificates comply in all material respects with the requirements of the law, unless you have good reason to believe that any person presenting such a certificate is not the person to whom said certificate was issued or is not a member of any one of the exempt classes. Chinese persons of the exempt classes applying for admission to the United States properly certified are entitled to all the rights, privileges, immunities and exemptions which are accorded to citizens and subjects of the most favored nation.

Any harshness in the administration of the Chinese exclusion laws will not for one moment be tolerated, and any discourtesy shown Chinese persons, either laborers or of the exempt classes, by any of the officials of this department, will be ground for immediate dismissal of the offender from the service.

ONLY REMEDY IS IN MUTUALIZATION

Cornelius N. Bliss So Declares Concerning the Plight of the Equitable Society.

AGENTS MAY BE DIRECTORS

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE HERALD
Herald Building, Herald Square.
NEW YORK, June 25.

Cornelius N. Bliss, who has been closely connected with the Equitable society for more than a quarter of a century, expressed the opinion today that a permanent settlement of the affairs of the society can be brought about only through mutualization. Mr. Bliss was a member of the Frick committee, and resigned as a director when the report was rejected.

Mr. Bliss believes the appointment of Mr. Cleveland, Judge O'Brien and Mr. Westinghouse, as trustees of the stock purchased by Thomas F. Ryan, will restore public confidence in the society, and that Paul Morton, the new chairman, after he has completed his investigation, will institute reforms of management that will correct the evils pointed out in the Frick report.

"The time must come," says Mr. Bliss, "when there must be a more permanent settlement, and I agree with the superintendent of insurance that this must take the form of a further mutualization under conditions which will safeguard the policy-holders absolutely. I think it would be impossible for the legislature in a brief summer special session to act understandingly. The legislature to be selected next fall will undoubtedly take the matter up in a cool, calm way and pass legislation that will benefit all the interests concerned."

Unless the form of the proxies now being prepared for the use of the Equitable trustees at the next election of directors is changed, there is every prospect that many of the policy-holders' directors, chosen under the present plan, will be Equitable general agents.

At the next election of directors, 12 new members of the board will be chosen. Of these the policy-holders will elect seven and the trustees six. The form of proxies which is being prepared will be sent to all policy-holders, with a request that they will fill in the name of a candidate for director in the place for the candidate's name is left blank.

As soon as the agents learned of the new form of proxy, they prepared to take advantage of the situation. An immediate effort was made by each district agent to get possession of at least five shares of Equitable stock, by purchase or otherwise, so as to be able to qualify for a place on the board of directors.

FAST SCHEDULE RESTORED.

New York Central Puts Back the Twentieth Century Limited on Its Eighteen-Hour Run.

NEW YORK, June 25.—The 18-hour running schedule for the Twentieth Century Limited between this city and Chicago, temporarily abandoned following the wreck at Mentor, will be restored tomorrow. The following announcement was made by President W. H. Newman, of the New York Central railroad:

"The rigid investigation of the wreck on the Lake Shore road at Mentor, O., which has been made by the Lake Shore company, and by the state railway commissioner of Ohio, who with the chief inspector of railways for the state made a personal investigation at the scene of the accident, having shown conclusively the accident was not caused by the speed of the train, it is now decided unnecessary longer to continue the slower schedule of the Twentieth Century train, the time of which was lengthened, pending a thorough investigation of the cause of the accident. Its schedule of 18 hours between New York and Chicago will be resumed Monday, the 26th."

ARREST CAUSES SENSATION.

Former High Official of Canada Is a Prisoner in New York on Charge of Impersonating Husband.

NEW YORK, June 25.—(Special.)—Capt. Reginald Salmon, former wreck commissioner of the Dominion of Canada, cousin of Vice Admiral Salmon (retired) of the Royal British navy, and nephew of Sir Arthur Denny, Bart., is a prisoner in the Tombs. His arrest involves Capt. Osprey G. V. Spain, present Canadian commissioner and commander of Canadian cruisers, and his wife, Mary Beatrice Spain, for years a leader of government house society in Ottawa.

Capt. Salmon is charged under an almost obsolete section of the penal code with impersonating Capt. Osprey G. V. Spain and with maintaining the marriage relation with the real Mrs. Spain in this city.

RAID A RESTAURANT.

Known as a Chinese-American House of Entertainment, and Police Say Liquor Is Sold.

Gus Roeder, the proprietor of a Chinese-American restaurant at 424 Second avenue, was arrested last night on a warrant charging him with selling liquor without a license and on Sunday, on information made by Police Inspector Robinson before Magistrate Moke.

A squad of officers arrested everybody in the place, one being Mrs. Marion Roeder, the wife of the proprietor, and the others six men.

The restaurant is fitted up with stalls where the police say liquor is served to anybody who asks for it.

FRENCH NATION OBJECT OF ENVY

Minister of Interior Declares the Army Will Preserve Dignity of the People.

WAR POSSIBILITIES DISCUSSED

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

TROYES, FRANCE, June 25.—In a speech here today M. Etienne, minister of the interior, referred to the difficulties through which France was passing. He said the French nation was an object of envy and jealousy. Because she was extending her frontiers and spreading her ideas abroad she had become a target for those whom she inconvenienced; but the nation would preserve its dignity by giving the world proof of its wisdom and would assure her destiny by uniting for a realization of the ideals of justice and the development of material prosperity under the aegis of the army.

LONDON, June 25.—The correspondent of the Daily Chronicle at Tangier says it is reported that the sultan of Morocco has granted a concession for a port at Azerud, at the mouth of the Wadi-El-Kus river, on the Algerian frontier, to a German company.

PARIS, June 25.—Speculation is rife regarding the probable purport of Germany's reply to the French note regarding the proposed international conference over Moroccan affairs, which reply has not yet been received. It is alleged that the contents of the reply were given out today, in which Germany requests a clearer statement of the French program for Moroccan affairs, suggested that each subject be discussed seperately in accordance with the terms of the Madrid convention, the two points principally referred to being coast trading and frontiers and that should France accept Germany would abandon the idea of the conference. This, however, is regarded as a surmise.

Meanwhile public anxiety relative to eventualities is still intense. The press continues to advise patience and confidence in the efforts of the French government to arrive at a pacific settlement.

BERLIN, June 25.—Chancellor Von Buelow received M. Bihourd, the French ambassador today. The newspapers continue to discuss the situation between France and Germany with some heat. An attempt is being made to shift the responsibility for the recent war panic to articles in the British press and the National Zeitung solemnly reminds France that a Franco-German conflict would not be decided by a Trafalgar, but on French or German battlefields.

CROWD DISAPPOINTED AT TURNERS' FESTIVAL

Assembles to Hear Awarding of Prizes, but Few Are Announced.

SPECIAL TELEGRAM FROM
J. D. IHMSEN, Staff Correspondent.

INDIANAPOLIS, June 25.—Disappointment awaited 10,000 people this evening. The 2,000 Turners who had taken part in the athletic contests of the festival and thousands of their friends had gathered in Germania park to hear the announcement of the prize winning. The scheduled time for giving out the result was 6 o'clock. Then an announcement was made that the competition committee had not completed its work and there was a wait of two hours, and when finally a few diplomas and prizes were distributed it was found that they were for minor things, special events, which are not obligatory in the science of turning. The final result will not be known until tomorrow.

The third prize in the 400-yard relay race was won by the Allegheny turnverein, time 41 4-5 seconds. The Pittsburgh district carried off at least one first prize, that in the light-weight wrestling class, which was won by George Owens of the Monaca (Pa.) turnverein. John Jackel of McKeesport was second in the high jump.

The great prizes are still to be distributed. One of the committeemen thought he would go over the addition of the figures handed in by the judges and he discovered an error of 10 points in the adding up of the points made by one athlete. A few other experiments and recounts were made and other errors were found and then the committee decided that the whole work of the adding machines and figuring up the percentages should be done again.

JAPANESE BEAT RUSSIANS BACK

Take Hill Position After Stubborn Resistance by Three Thousand of Enemy.

RED CROSS FLAG UNAVAILING

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

TOKYO, June 25.—The following official dispatch has been received from the Japanese army headquarters in Manchuria:

"The enemy holding the northwest eminence of Manchenzou was attacked and dislodged on the afternoon of June 22, but a portion of the enemy holding the hills to the west offered stubborn resistance and the hills were finally taken by assault. Another force of the enemy, holding the hills due north, was attacked from the front and we simultaneously resorted to a turning movement from the northeast, intercepting his retreat and causing him heavy loss. The enemy in confusion hoisted the Red Cross flag, but this did not stop our firing and he fled north in disorder. His strength in cavalry and infantry was some 3,000 men and several guns. Fifty corpses were left on the field. The enemy's loss was fully 200. Our loss was insignificant."

ST. PETERSBURG, June 25.—The emperor has received the following dispatch from Gen. Linevitch, dated June 22:

"After the Japanese advance on our right flank, which I have already reported, the enemy advanced against our front east of the railway where the Cossacks, noticing the enemy's advantage, had withdrawn slowly. On June 19 our cavalry, having been reinforced, met the Japanese advance, when the enemy hastily withdrew to the southward.

"On the morning of June 20 our cavalry reoccupied points on the Mandarin road. Japanese infantry began at 9 o'clock on the same day a determined advance against Gujichi, opening an artillery fire on our outposts. At noon our men north of Gujichi withdrew and the advance guard of the division retreated still further to the heights north of Schichiusa in face of superior forces, finally falling back as far as Liaoenjao. The fight ended in the evening, the enemy remaining some four miles south of this spot. It was found later that two regiments of Japanese infantry and two regiments of cavalry with machine, mountain and field guns had advanced along the Mandarin road.

"To the west three battalions of infantry, a squadron of cavalry and three guns advanced. We resolved to advance on June 20 in order to drive the enemy back and to enable our advance guards to recover their former positions. For this purpose the troops selected began to move towards Liaoenjao. Scouts were thrown out and the Japanese retired before our advance guards. In the evening of June 20 our advanced troops occupied Menchuagai and a pass to the west of that place.

"On the morning of June 21 our further advance began and the enemy, pursued by us, retired gradually to positions near Resconpingao. A lively fire was opened by degrees, four Japanese batteries being engaged. The Japanese showed a disposition to offer an obstinate resistance and the appearance of our troops here caused confusion among them, compelling them to send for reinforcements.

"The object of our advance being fully attained our troops were withdrawn in the falling darkness, the positions which the enemy had occupied before our advance remaining in our hands.

"A Japanese battalion and 200 cavalry appeared north of Chsjushen, Korea, on June 20."

The Russky Invalid, the army organ, supplies an argument for peace in an estimate of the strength of the Japanese armies which it places at from 550,000 to 600,000 men, including the forces operating in Korea. In the five Japanese armies opposing Gen. Linevitch, exclusive of cavalry and artillery, it estimates that there are from 430,000 to 450,000 bayonets, which give Field Marshal Oyama a decided numerical superiority over the strength usually allotted to Linevitch's army. The Japanese forces, it says, are divided as follows: Gen. Kuroki, 115,000 to 120,000 bayonets; Gen. Oku, 110,000 to 115,000 bayonets; Gen. Nogi, 85,000 to 90,000 bayonets; Gen. Nodzu, 45,000 bayonets, and Gen. Kawamura, 75,000 to 80,000 bayonets.

CHURCH AND STATE NEARING SEPARATION

French Chamber of Deputies Has Little Left for Discussion on the Bill.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

PARIS, June 25.—With the settlement by the chamber of deputies of the controversial point in the church and state separation bill relating to the formation of governing bodies destined to take over control of the churches, the debate was practically concluded. The basis of reform, including the cutting of the bonds uniting church and state, the abolition of budgetary provision for members of the clergy, except those entitled to pensions, the future disposal of religious edifices and the constitution of parish societies, all aroused heated discussion.

The last-named question attracted the close attention of the opponents of the bill, the desire being to prevent church property becoming the object of future political strife. It was finally decided that the governing bodies should have power to make church collections and charge for ceremonies and to form reserve funds for the maintenance of the clergy and the edifices, but they are not to be allowed to receive the legacies.

The section permitting societies to federate into diocesan unions and eventually to form a national federation, aroused a strong protest from the Socialists and Free Thinkers. The chairman of the committee maintained that the state did not desire to render the church impotent to continue its work, which would be the case unless mutual intercourse and assistance were allowed. Finally, with a proviso for official supervision of the finances of the societies, in order to prevent the funds being used for political propaganda, the clause was accepted. The only point left for discussion is the regulation of public worship with penalties for breaches of the law.

KILLED BY LIVE WIRE.

Young Woman Witnesses the Death of Her Escort, and of the Man Who Tries to Rescue Him.

TRENTON, N. J., June 25.—Walter Ewing, a New York telegrapher, and Wesley Davison of Hopewell, a village about 12 miles from here, were killed at Hopewell early this evening by a live electric wire. Ewing was accompanied by a young lady to whom he was engaged to be married.

Ewing and the young woman were walking in the village when he saw a suspended wire at which a dog was sniffing. Realizing it was a live wire Ewing obtained two sticks and in endeavoring to remove it slipped and the wire coiled about him. Davison went to his rescue, also being caught in the wire and both were killed.

ORDAINED TO MINISTRY.

Three Young Pastors, One of Whom Goes to Sharon, Enter Service of the Lutheran Church.

LIGONIER, PA., June 25.—All the Ligonier pulpits were filled today by members of the Lutheran synod in session here. In the Lutheran church the Rev. W. J. Miller, president of the synod, delivered the ordination sermon, and at its close three young men were ordained to the ministry. They were H. F. Obenaut, called to Sharon; P. E. Strandt, called to Grace church, Erie, and W. C. Beck, called to Emlenton.

Tomorrow morning the business of the synod will be resumed. Members of the finance committee and trustees to fill vacancies on the Thiel college board are to be elected. The status of Thiel college remains unchanged. No provision was made to open the college next fall at Greenville or elsewhere. It is likely none will be until the question of removal has been determined by the courts.

YOUTHFUL BURGLARS ARE CAUGHT RED-HANDED

Officer Daniel Sullivan discovered two small burglars last night in the act of breaking into a little candy stand in a doorway at 526 Smithfield street. They were prying open the front screen with a stick when caught. At Central station they registered as Robert Schrock, aged 12, of 2440 Penn avenue, and Eddie Wilson, aged 11, of Twenty-fifth street.

the hope of getting a candidate for commissioner that will consider Mr. Clark's interests first, the selection will be taken out of the hands of the Citizens convention and turned over to a committee. The Democratic fusion conferees will sacrifice any part of the ticket to save Mr. Clark.

Keeping an Eye on Gordon.

Democratic followers of Col. J. M. Guffey are keeping an eye on former Judge James Gay Gordon of Philadelphia. He is acting as chief counsel for Mayor John Weaver of Philadelphia, and is credited with endeavoring to make enough capital out of the Quaker City political troubles to make him a formidable candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor next year. He has been a bitter opponent of Col. Guffey since 1898, when the Pittsburgher turned him down in the Altoona convention and gave the gubernatorial nomination to George A. Jenks of Brookville.

Since the union of forces of Weaver and Gordon in Philadelphia the former judge has been under suspicion by the Guffey Democrats. Gordon is a close political and personal friend of James Kerr of Clearfield. Friday the Clearfield Republican, a Democratic newspaper, the organ of Mr. Kerr, declared for Judge Gordon for governor. It proclaims him the "man of the hour," and says he is the "logical" nominee.

It would not be surprising to hear Col. Guffey declare for fusion in the gubernatorial election and announce it as necessary for the success of the movement to name an independent Republican as the candidate for executive. As matters now stand, the colonel would not agree to the nomination of Judge Gordon.

The Democratic state committee will meet in Harrisburg Wednesday to fix a date for the reconvening of the state convention for the purpose of nominating a candidate for supreme court justice. The first week in August will probably be selected. Orders will go out for the Guffey men to keep close tab on the Gordon gubernatorial boom and make prompt reports to the colonel.

J. Harry Corbett, lieutenant colonel of the Fourteenth regiment, is a candidate for superintendent of the state constabulary. Col. Corbett lives in Carnegie and is deputy warden of the Western penitentiary. He has served in the national guard for a long time and is considered a good executive officer and a strict disciplinarian.

Gov. Pennypacker is credited with wanting a man with military experience to head the state police force. He is said to have offered the position to Col. Stilwell of Scranton, commander of the Thirteenth regiment, and the colonel declined. The appointment will be made this week. The position pays $2,000 a year. The superintendent will have about 225 men under him.

SOCIALISTS SELECT THEIR COUNTY TICKET

Name a News Agent for Judge and Nominate Three County Commissioners.

The Socialist party is ready for the fall campaign. It has nominated a county ticket and put an organizer in the field.

The candidates are as follows: Judge of common pleas court, No. 2, William Adams, news agent, Wilmerding; prothonotary, George A. Stockdale, lineman, Allegheny; treasurer, J. L. Park, painter, Pittsburgh; clerk of courts, W. J. Ritchey, carpenter, Pittsburgh; controller, W. J. Wright, painter, Wilkinsburg; recorder, A. L. Leach, carpenter, Allegheny; poor director, John Butterbach, laborer, Mt. Oliver; register of wills, Joshua McElree, laborer, Allegheny; county commissioners, John K. Hellick, teacher, Wilkinsburg; Isidore Kerber, clerk, Pittsburgh, and F. H. Ebbert, bricklayer, Pittsburgh.

Mr. Adams was the candidate for governor of the Socialist Labor party in 1902. He is not learned in the law, but figures the question will never be raised. The party names three county commissioners, even though the statutes contains an elector to voting for two. Fred L. Schwartz is the organizer for the party.

Falls from the Running Board.

George W. Marchesney, aged about 78, of 3310 Fifth avenue, fell off the running board of a Bloomfield car at 10:25 last night at Boquet and Forbes streets. He was badly cut on the right hand. He refused to have a physician and was able to walk home with his son.

TROLLEY PATRONS HAVE LONG WAIT

All Traction Lines on the North Side Are Tied Up by a Break at Power House.

CROWDS WALK FROM SUBURBS

Hundreds of the breeze-courting patrons of the open trolley, seeking air and relaxation, suffered hours of annoying delay last night on all the lines on the Allegheny side of the river. From 6 o'clock until midnight on miles of track in Allegheny, Bellevue, Avalon and West View, dark cars stood and impatient crowds sat waiting for the much-desired current that would send them along to their destinations.

Some of the machinery in the Juniata street power house on the North Side got out of order about 6 o'clock, but the break was not so serious as to completely stop traffic until almost two hours later. This fact proved a catastrophe for thousands who, eating an early dinner, fled to the comfortable seat of the open trolley and started for a ride through the suburbs. By the time that the pretty park in West View had within its bounds several hundred people, and when several other hundreds were down in Bellevue, Avalon, or upon top of Troy Hill, the elusive current abandoned the wires entirely.

Between the hours of 9 and midnight an occasional flicker of light in the overhead electric bulbs in the trolleys stayed long enough to allow the passengers to see how annoyed and disgusted the others were; then it would go out again. At each apparent revival of the power motormen hustled to throw off brakes and turn in the current, but all this effort was for nothing.

The tie-up was really the most serious in Allegheny for a long time and the telephones in the Allegheny offices of the Pittsburgh Railways Company were kept ringing by anxious persons wishing to know the cause of the delay. Some of the street car men in Allegheny said a wire had been grounded somewhere and that it could not be located. The hurry-up wagon, scurrying hither and thither about the North Side, gave credence to this story, but the company employes at the offices declared there was some slight break in the power house.

Scores of people slept better last night than they would have, had the cars been running as usual, for many who got tired waiting got out on the sidewalks and walked. Some did it because walking is not so bad after all, and others because they were in a hurry or were disgusted with stationary trolleys. However, there were large numbers walking in all the thoroughfares on the North Side, some of them after midnight. There were belated, home-coming family picnics, the father and mother each carrying a sleeping young one, and dragging along by the hand several others who had had their fun earlier in the day and wished they were home and in bed. Such sights as these were common in East street, Perrysville avenue, California avenue and other main thoroughfares leading from the city out to the favorite breathing spots.

Shortly before midnight a portion of the power was restored to the feed wires and with much groaning the trolleys on all the lines fed from the North Side plant started. The movement was slow, however, as there was but little power. The company officials said then that the break would be completely repaired before morning.

ZIONISTS HEAR REPORTS FROM EIGHTH CONVENTION

Pittsburgh Delegates Are Honored by Being Placed at the Head of Important Committees.

Zionists have determined to come into the limelight so that people can see what the Federation of American Zionists is doing and to help the cause along by making the movement popular. The annual convention hereafter will probably be held in prominent halls in big cities, as the members of the federation feel they are missing opportunities by holding their sessions in quiet streets.

At a meeting of the Pittsburgh Zionist society, held last night in the Washington Street synagogue, the delegates to the eighth annual convention which met last week in Philadelphia made their reports. Morris Nearman stated that the convention was better than previous ones, because the majority of delegates were young men and women who have the desire and energy to push forward the cause and uphold Jewish institutions. He said the great number of college men present was also a feature of the convention.

Henry Jackson, chairman of the ways and means committee and a member of the executive committee of the federation, said he suggested to the executive committee that the federation come to the front and active steps have already been taken to make the Zionists' cause popular. He said the Pittsburgh delegates to the convention were given honor everywhere, and that the chairmanship of every important committee was given to a Pittsburgher. Rabbi A. M. Ashinsky was elected a vice president of the federation.

Inauguration of Chautauqua Lake Sleeping Car Service Via Pennsylvania Railroad.

Commencing Saturday, July 1, a Pullman sleeping car will run daily between Pittsburgh and Mayville, N. Y. (Chautauqua Lake), leaving Pittsburgh on train No. 3 at 11 p. m. Returning sleeping car will leave Mayville daily on train No. 4 at 1 a. m., arriving at Pittsburgh at 7:20 a. m.

The claim of this company to the confidence of the community is based upon a sound financial condition and long years of experience in the management of trust estates. Its reputation is established. If you need the services of a strong company in any trust capacity we shall be glad to hear from you. The Safe Deposit and Trust Company of Pittsburgh, Fourth avenue and Wood street.

COMPROMISE PLAN MAY BE KILLED

Director Bigelow Still Refuses to Indorse the Proposed 12-Foot Hump Cut.

TEST TONIGHT IN COUNCILS

Director Bigelow's failure to indorse the proposed 12-foot cut of the hump is expected by administration members to kill the substitute plan in councils tonight and may result in the adoption of the original plan for an 18-foot cut. Leading Citizens members of common council predicted last night that the ordinance for the regrading of Fifth avenue, clear from Smithfield to Tunnel street, would be passed tonight by common council with an amendment to postpone the date of the election.

"The Twentieth ward councilmen are for an 18-foot cut or nothing," said Councilman C. W. Heimold last night, "and I understand that is the feeling of two-thirds of the members of councils who are in favor of the removal of the hump."

Director Bigelow is to present to common council tonight a statement showing the latest proposition made by H. C. Frick, but the director will carefully refrain from indorsing the proposition. He says the matter "is up to councils." Director Bigelow said last night he would present the two letters he had received from Mr. Frick, the one stating he would refuse to sign a waiver of damages for a cut of more than six feet at Fifth and Wylie avenues, and the one received on Saturday, agreeing to a cut of not more than four feet at the Grant street and Fifth avenue entrances to the Frick building.

Project Is in Danger.

Regardless of which plan is adopted by councils, it is admitted by the advocates of the project that the hump removal is in a bad way and his defeat much more probable than before Mr. Frick took his stand against an 18-foot cut. If the cut is made is feet, and Mr. Frick does not sign a waiver, it is claimed the people, outside of those immediately benefited and interested in the hump removal, would be frightened at the prospective cost of the improvement. The opposition of the South Side to the project because the administration has failed to purchase the Monongahela water works is also to be counted.

On the other hand, if the 12-foot cut is adopted, Director Bigelow will have the opposition of many of those who have been the loudest in demanding the hump cut. They will include the owners of property in Fifth avenue below Cherry alley and beyond Sixth avenue, who will not be benefited by the new plan; also the owners of property in Wylie and Webster and Sixth avenues, Diamond street and Fourth avenue.

Amount Not to Be Changed.

"If councils decide upon the 12-foot cut it will not be necessary to change the amount of the bond issue," said Director Bigelow. "The ordinance can be made to read that the amount 'shall not exceed' $2,000,000. The ordinance now provides for an issue of $2,000,000. It will be necessary to amend the ordinance to confine the regrading of Fifth avenue within Cherry alley and Sixth avenue, instead of Smithfield street and Tunnel street, as the ordinance now reads.

"The election will not be held until late in August or near the first of September. The mayor must issue a proclamation at least 30 days before the election, and before the mayor issues his proclamation the ordinance must be put through both branches of councils. This can be done in a week's time, unless a fight is started in councils, and then more meetings will be required. There is another thing we must watch. The hump election must be held at least 60 days prior to the general election in November, otherwise the question would have to be submitted at the November election, under the law.

"If the bond issue should be submitted at the November election, it would be defeated, because the proposition must have a majority of all the votes cast to carry, and in a general election thousands of people would forget to vote on the bond issue, owing to the excitement of the contest for offices."

EXPECT 1,000 STUDENTS

Conference at Northfield, Mass., of Members of All Colleges East of Ohio and in Lower Canada.

One thousand students are expected to attend the twentieth conference at Northfield, Mass., from June 30 to July 9, that has been arranged by the international committee of the Y. M. C. A. The gathering is designed to include members of all colleges and preparatory schools east of Ohio and in Lower Canada. Last year nearly 800 men were in attendance, representing over 100 institutions.

The program outlined for this year will consist of auditorium addresses and open-air meetings in the morning and evenings, with baseball, tennis and track events in the afternoon. A series of "Life Work" addresses will be given, one each evening, on Round Top by men who have achieved success in the different callings of life. The speakers include G. A. Johnson Ross, Cambridge, England; Robert E. Speer, New York; G. Campbell Morgan, London; Clayton S. Cooper, New York city, and possibly Bishop Lawrence of Massachusetts and John R. Mott. A feature of the conference will be the graded Bible courses, taught as follows: Freshmen, L. H. Miller, Princeton; juniors, Thornton B. Penfield, New York; seniors, the Rev. H. E. Fosdick, Montclair, N. J.; graduates, R. A. Falconer, principal of Pine Grove seminary, Halifax, N. S., and personal work course by E. T. Colton, New York. An attractive addition this year is a study of American problems, conducted by John Willis Baer of New York city.

Besides the religious side of the conference, tennis and golf tournaments and a series of baseball games will be played between the colleges, with an inter-collegiate fielder and patriotic celebration on the Fourth.

Diamond Brooch Is Gone.

Abbie Cobbs, arrested on suspicion of stealing a diamond brooch worth $480, and $41 in cash at 237 Second avenue, was held for investigation by the police yesterday, as was John Doe, also alleged to know something of the theft.

FIGHT AT DANCE MAY MEAN MUCH

Theophilus Jaworski Is Thought to Be Dying from an Assault by Young Poles.

GIRL'S DEATH IS ALSO FEARED

Because several young Poles were refused admission to a dance hall on Saturday night it is probable that a man and woman will die. The man was kicked in the abdomen by one of the angry men. The other victim, a young girl, is suffering from spasms brought on by witnessing the trouble. The victims are:

THEOPHILUS JAWORSKI, aged 54, owner and manager of the hall.

DORA KONATZSKI, aged 18, a guest at the ball.

The hall is at 244 Spring alley, and was formerly used as a dwelling. Frank Jaworski converted the first floor into a dance hall, and on May 9 turned it over to his brother, Theophilus. About 8 o'clock Saturday night Michael Drojokoski, aged 18, and Max Srodowski, aged 19, both living at 253 Spring alley, went to the hall and demanded admittance. Jaworski refused to allow them inside, and one of them kicked him twice.

Jaworski ran into the building and secured a potato masher and as he emerged from the door Drojokoski, it is alleged, kicked him in the abdomen. Jaworski fell to the sidewalk and the two men, who had been joined by another, ran away. Jaworski was carried into the hall by the dancers and Dr. F. N. Staub was called. He found the man's condition serious, as he had only recently suffered from rupture. Early yesterday morning the doctor was again called to the house and found Jaworski in such condition that he notified the police.

Jaworski, Dora Konatzski and six men were arrested and taken to No. 3 police station. At 2 a. m. the police sent Jaworski to the West Penn hospital. Last midnight the doctors stated there was little hope of saving his life.

Yesterday morning the girl and men were released by the police. The girl was greatly excited and on reaching home fell in a faint at the door. After physicians had revived her she had several attacks of spasms. The doctors remained with her all day and last night they said she would probably die.

BRIGHT PICNIC PROSPECT.

St. Paul's Orphan Asylum Is Expected to Have Its Most Remunerative Benefit This Year.

The managers of St. Paul's orphans' picnic met last night in the Washington Street Lyceum. Chairman Frank J. Totten of the ticket committee reported that 45,000 tickets had been distributed for sale, the greatest number ever put out. Chairman A. S. McSwiggan announced that he would give $50 to the person selling the largest number of tickets. The delegate from St. Mary's of the Mount on Mt. Washington reported that 80 per cent of his congregation had made cash contributions to the picnic fund and the work was still being pushed.

Father Lynch has fixed upon the souvenir the orphans will sell at the picnic. It will be a photograph of boys and girls, showing the nationalities represented in the asylum. Where possible a boy and a girl of each race will be in the group. A Chinese boy and a Japanese girl are being reared for just now and these two will represent the "yellow peril." There are children representing 12 nationalities in the asylum. All of them, with few exceptions, were born in the United States and the exceptions belong to this continent, as they first saw the light in Canada.

While the managers were meeting in the hall of the Lyceum the lower floor was used for a meeting of the women of the Church of the Epiphany. Father O'Connell presided and over 125 ladies took part in the meeting. The reports indicated that this church will do more for the picnic than ever before.

DEDICATE NEW CHURCH.

Methodist Episcopal Congregation of McKees Rocks Consecrates Its $18,000 Structure.

The new Methodist Episcopal church of McKees Rocks, Yonker and Rose streets, was dedicated yesterday by the Rev. Dr. James Mechem, presiding elder of the Pittsburgh district. The pastor, the Rev. George Orbin, presided. In the morning, following a Sunday school service, the Rev. Dr. E. L. Eaton, of Allegheny, delivered the sermon.

In the afternoon a platform meeting was held when the following clergymen spoke: The Rev. W. E. Brewster of McKees Rocks Christian church; the Rev. Edwin McClintock, of Esplen United Presbyterian church; the Rev. Dr. J. B. Risk, of Perrysville Avenue Methodist Episcopal church; the Rev. O. N. Verner, of McKees Rocks Presbyterian church, and the Rev. Solomon Kebler, Methodist Episcopal church of Duquesne Heights. After the addresses Dr. Mechem dedicated the church. An Epworth league rally was conducted by Mrs. Elliott in the evening and at 8 o'clock the Rev. J. B. Starkey of the East End preached. The new building has been erected at a cost of $18,000 and seats 800 persons.

Lay the Cornerstone.

The cornerstone of the new Belmar Christian church being erected in Rowan avenue, was laid yesterday with special services. The Rev. Dr. Wallace Tharp of Allegheny delivered the principal address, while the Rev. Dr. W. R. Warren of Pittsburgh and the Rev. A. N. D. Wells of Wilkinsburg were among other speakers. The Rev. E. E. Manley, pastor of the congregation, which now worships in an adjoining building, was in charge of the services.

Pastor Is Installed.

The Rev. John J. Leberman, D. D., was last night installed as pastor of St. Luke's Reformed church, Braddock. The Rev. James Walters of Pittsburgh preached the sermon to the congregation and the Rev. A. K. Klein, a former pastor of St. Luke's church, delivered the charge to the pastor and performed the rites of installation. The Rev. Dr. Leberman comes from Lancaster, O. He succeeds the Rev. E. H. Laubach, who went to Chicago last winter.

THREE CHURCHES EXTEND CALLS

Methodist Protestant Congregations Meet and Invite New Pastors to Pulpits.

ONE ACCEPTS BY TELEPHONE

Three clergymen were called to Pittsburgh pulpits of the Methodist Protestant denomination yesterday. At a congregational meeting in the Second church, Fifth avenue and Marion streets, yesterday morning, a call was extended to the Rev. C. L. Daugherty of Mechanicsburg, O. Several weeks ago the congregation called the Rev. A. E. Fletcher of New Brighton. The terms asked by the Rev. Mr. Fletcher did not meet with the approval of the congregation, and the call was withdrawn.

Yesterday morning at a congregational meeting of the Knoxville church a call was extended by that congregation to the Rev. Mr. Fletcher. Later in the day the pastor of the Knoxville congregation, the Rev. Fred N. Foster, was called up by telephone and informed that the congregation of the Fourth church, Aiken avenue and Howe street, had extended him a call, and he accepted the offer over the telephone.

The congregation of the Fourth church held a congregational meeting several weeks ago and recalled their pastor, the Rev. Dr. J. C. Broomfield. The latter did not accept and subsequently accepted a call to the Methodist Protestant church in Fairmont, W. Va.

These changes will take effect on September 1, the end of the conference year, and must first be sanctioned by the conference. There is, however, little question but that the changes will be ratified.

JAMES M. CABLE BLOWS HIS HEART INTO SHREDS

Sickness of Brother and Fear Farm Would Be Mismanaged Causes Despondency.

Because his brother was lying ill in the Mercy hospital, and he was afraid the farm would run down, James M. Cable, aged 47, living near Claremont, blew his heart to shreds Saturday afternoon. Cable's sister-in-law, Mrs. Lottie Cable, had gone to the hospital to see her husband, who is the active manager of the Cable farm. Before she went James had expressed his sorrow for the condition of his brother, and his fear for the future of the farm. He was very despondent. When Mrs. Cable returned at 7 p. m., she found James dead, sitting in a rocking chair. He had placed a shotgun between his knees, with the muzzle against his heart, and touched the trigger with his foot. The man was alone when he committed suicide. His father, aged 86, who also lived on the farm, was away on a visit.

Dimitrio Vacalvasic died at the Homeopathic hospital at 9:30 o'clock yesterday morning from peritonitis resulting from a wound. He was a painter, and while at work on a roof of a house at Coraopolis, on June 12, stepped on a skylight, which broke and let him fall 40 feet. In falling a large spike penetrated his back, which caused peritonitis. He was single, aged 32, and lived at 105 Fourth avenue.

The death of William Gratz of 228 Sample avenue, Millvale, was reported to the coroner yesterday. He was found lying in his yard at 11 o'clock Saturday night bleeding at the mouth. He had been ill for some days, and a physician said he died from a hemorrhage. He was a molder, 39 years old.

The body of Patrick Cleary, aged 35, who jumped off the Union bridge, on June 9, was recovered in the Ohio river at Glen Osborne station yesterday by Harry Goff. The body was identified by his brother, Richard. Cleary was a coachman for Attorney M. W. Watson of 807 Lincoln avenue, Allegheny. He recently recovered from an attack of typhoid fever, and it is thought his mind was affected.

HAVE NARROW ESCAPE.

Two Prominent Alleghenians Are Thrown in Front of Street Car. Their Horse Balks.

William G. Young, son of Robert Young, a Philadelphia company official, and Frank F. Ablett, son of J. Ablett, the local Standard Oil manager, were painfully bruised and cut by being thrown from a light runabout yesterday afternoon at Ohio street and Sherman avenue, Allegheny.

The young men were behind a fast horse belonging to Mr. Young and shortly before 3 o'clock were speeding along Sherman avenue. In front of St. Peter's church the animal balked at a car and backed the rig in front of a west-bound car on the Western avenue line. Both young men fell in front of the car and would have met instant death if it had not been stopped promptly.

Young's scalp was badly lacerated and Ablett's hands and face were scratched and bruised. Young lives at 1316 Western avenue and Ablett at 919 Fulton street. Both were able to go home.

Horse Injures Small Boy.

Raymond, the 10-year-old son of Philip Maul, a fireman at No. 9 engine house, Allegheny, was seriously injured about the head yesterday morning by a horse. The animal belongs to William Falck and was being exercised by the lad, who was thrown and trampled. He was carried to his home in Spring Garden avenue and a physician summoned.

Domestic Art Exhibit in Allegheny.

The annual public exhibit of the domestic art department of the Second ward schools, Allegheny, will be held tomorrow afternoon from 2 to 4 o'clock and in the evening from 8 to 9:30 o'clock in the Sherman avenue school. This will be the last exhibit of the industrial work in the Allegheny schools for the year.

An excerpt from our bulletin of last Saturday afternoon relating to the several underprice sales of today—high-class dress cottons, high class silks and high-class woolens. Quite a list of the different fabrics was given, and the former prices at which they were sold, together with the prices at which they will be transferred to you today, capitally illustrative of what we call forcefully reduced prices.

There never was such a time in late years when women had the privilege of buying dress stuffs for such inconsequential prices.

As this is a two-day sale, if your household duties or social engagements prevent you from coming today, try to be with us tomorrow.

Today's Reduced Prices on White Dress Cottons.

Surely white dress cottons of the superior sort were never sold in mid-season for such prices as we name today. Our regular prices on white cottons are known to be below par, but for this sale they have been reduced to, well, say an average half.

Cool, comfortable and stylish. There's a happy combination of virtues in a warm weather garment.

The manufacturers' season is at an end, and, therefore, they were glad to close these out to us for practically our own price. The wearing season is just beginning.

No poor styles or seconds in the line. All sizes.

Women's China Silk Waists for Special Prices.

When the heat oppresses any garment that contributes to comfort is invariably eagerly snapped up—and comfort is the cardinal feature of these soft silk waists.

Just now we are in excellent position to show you many new styles that have come to us only within the last few days.

Waists beautiful in their strict simplicity vie for favor with those elaborated with insertions of lace and with silk embroidery. All are generously cut and are finished excellently. Mention of a few:

$3.50. Shown in black and in white. Entire front of waist embroidered—full sleeve, deep cuff, tucked back. Worth $5.00.

$4.50. Shown in black and in white. Dressy waists with yoke of lace and medallions, tucked front, fancy cuff and collar, button down back. Worth $7.50.

$6.00. Yoke back and front of silk lace—front of waist made of eyelet embroidery, very dainty cuff, full sleeve, button down back. Worth $8.50.

Tapering Waist R. & G. Corsets.

Women who make a point of being in the front rank of fashion are buying R. & G. Corsets this summer.

In the entire range of moderate-priced corsets there is not another which has the graceful lines of the new models in R. & G. The well-defined waist line which present fashion demands is secured by R. & G. without any discomfort to the wearer.

The gown fitted over any of the R. & G. models is sure to look well and feel well.

We carry a full line of styles and sizes in high and low busts.

Prices $1.00 to $3.00. Every pair guaranteed.

Even the Table Linens Are Reduced in Price.

There is no reason why they should be, for household linens are certainly staple. They can't go out of style between this and another season, they can't lose anything in quality by being here awhile.

We've reduced the prices anyhow—don't suppose you will be interested in our motive, though you will be in the lessened prices.

Monday, June 26, 1905.

Excellent results have been obtained from the order permitting bathing in the rivers at certain places and putting policemen on guard for the preservation of decorum and the rescue of swimmers. A number of lives have been saved by the officers in charge, an average of more than one a day and the wholesome sport has been encouraged. No better order has been made by the present public safety administration.

Pittsburgh will be well represented at the meeting in Cincinnati next Thursday to arrange for a great waterways convention in Washington during the coming winter. This movement is on the advice of members of the rivers and harbors committee, who believed it might be the means of arousing congress to the urgent need of improvements of the waterways. The demonstration should be made an impressive one and no doubt will be.

Secretary Taft, Chairman Shonts and Chief Engineer Wallace of the Panama canal commission were in conference in New York yesterday, and forthwith it was assumed there was trouble. This conference would seem quite natural on Engineer Wallace's arrival had not reports of his probable resignation preceded him. No official information was given out on this subject, but it will be safe to look on the sunny side until clouds really appear.

Gov. Folk's campaign against the gamblers in Missouri has developed as sensational features as he could wish. His order to suppress bookmaking and betting at the Delmar race track is ignored by Sheriff Herpel, who declares if the governor sends militia to enforce his wishes the soldiers will be shot. Herpel is evidently a fire eater, but the governor is not frightened. He says he will send soldiers and that he will remove the sheriff from office. The play is attracting general attention and is serving the purpose of keeping Folk in the public eye.

Former President Alexander of the Equitable Life Assurance society has remitted his check to Chairman Morton for his share of profits from the "James H. Hyde and associates" syndicate. Mr. Hyde deposited his check at the beginning of the scandal. The minor "associates" are yet to be heard from, but it may be taken for granted they will prefer voluntary payment to being hauled into court by Chairman Morton, the insurance commissioner, attorney general, or district attorney. The breeze of scandal that has blown so persistently during the past several months has not been wholly in vain.

Inquiry from Monongahela de Beaujeu for the burial place of his ancestor who fell fighting Gen. Braddock has excited considerable interest, but little hope of locating the grave. The cemetery mentioned may have been that between Wood and Smithfield streets to which led the Path of the Virgins, though authorities incline to a belief that it was nearer the "beautiful river." While it is probable the exact spot can never be located, the fact need not prevent the erection of suitable monuments on the battlefield to both Beaujeu and Braddock, the victor and vanquished. The approaching celebration of the 150th anniversary of the battle at Braddock, July 9, lends especial pertinence to the suggestion that such monuments should be provided.

Europe continues much disturbed over the relations between Germany and France and is giving quite as much attention to that affair as to the peace negotiations between Japan and Russia. A week ago France's assurance that it would join a general conference concerning Morocco was hailed as a peaceful solution of the trouble. The very long note of Premier Rouvier, however, imposed some conditions not to the liking of Germany, necessitating a very careful study of the document before reply. Just why this hitch, which leaves the controversy well within the domain of diplomacy, should so disturb Europe must be found in the excitable state of European nerves, for it does not look particularly serious to observers on this side of the Atlantic.

Remedy Applied.

President Roosevelt has dealt with the Chinese question in the most vigorous manner. As a result of an investigation begun little more than a week ago an order was issued yesterday that Chinese of the classes privileged to enter should be shown all the courtesies accorded citizens of the most favored nation. Another order directed the state department to notify diplomatic agents in China to assure the Chinese government and the officials of their districts that no discrimination will be made in future.

It is probable this aggressive movement will prevent much injury to American trade. The proposed boycott against American goods has been discussed by the Chinese trade guilds over a wide area of the kingdom, but the boycott has not actually been inaugurated at many places. It may now be abandoned. This is the more probable because in other respects than exclusion from our ports, the government of the United States has conspicuously befriended China on various occasions. Between the governments the relations have been entirely friendly and this will help to remove the grievances of the tradesmen.

This trouble should never have occurred. It is quite certain the measures necessary to exclude Chinese laborers within the meaning of the law have not made it necessary to insult every Chinese merchant, student or traveler who came to this country. All Chinamen may look alike to the immigration officials, but there are means of easy access to determine differences.

A Forlorn Hope.

On Wednesday next more than 900 delegates representing the Ohio Democracy will gather at Columbus to nominate a state ticket. They will gather from the banks of the Miami and the Maumee; the shores of Lake Erie and the Ohio; the valleys of the Hocking and the Muskingum; the great artificial basin of Anglaize and the hills along the Mahoning. They will center at the state capital to learn who they are to nominate for governor and, as a mere formality, to name other candidates on the ticket.

Three months ago Tom Johnson named John M. Pattison of Cincinnati and if there had been a convention then he would have been nominated by acclamation. A hope had been suddenly born in Democratic breasts that victory could be snatched over the head of the Anti-Saloon league. Today there is much doubt about the most available candidate and more about the snatching of victory over the head of any one, or behind anybody's back. John M. Pattison stands no higher than John C. Welty of Canton, or the old warhorse "Larry," Lawrence M. Neal of the classic precincts of Chillicothe. The boss himself is in the air and in danger of floating out over the green waters of Lake Erie.

Hope never fails the Democracy of Ohio, though it has no base on which to rest. Its hope of defeating Gov. Herrick this year is as chimerical as that with which it followed Tom Johnson to defeat two years ago. There is no more harmony between the mayor of Cleveland and McLean of Washington and Cincinnati than there was when Johnson's man Emery was buried under the "red-devil, circus" the year before. The anti-saloon element may be angry at Gov. Herrick, but it has no more affinity for Democracy than water for oil.

Myron T. Herrick, governor, stands for re-election on a more vital principle than the difference 'twixt tweedledum and tweedledee in local option. He represents more than a vacuous promise of tax reform on lines so hazy as to be lost in a morning fog off Put-in-Bay or Kelleys island. He is the embodiment of the opposition to the professional lobby, the disgrace of Columbus and the most mischievous factor in Ohio public affairs. The good people of Ohio are too well informed concerning the dominant evil of their entire political system to be led away by side issues from the support of the one man who has the courage to fight the lobby and the strength to defeat it. Pattison, or Welty, or Neal, or Hunter, it makes no difference. The 900 delegates might as well stay at home, or go on a river excursion. Gov. Herrick will be elected.

Opportunities for Graduates.

With the great increase in the number of colleges and schools for higher education it might be supposed that there would be a corresponding increase in the number of recent graduates looking for positions, either because they are not able to take special courses at once or are undecided as to what profession to follow. Once teaching offered the best inducements to this class, but the requirement of especial training for pedagogues has limited the occupation as a temporary expedient. The average graduate has more opportunity today to begin earning at once than he did when educational institutions devoted more attention to the classics and merely theoretical mental training.

Now a large percentage at every such institution is being trained for special work. Thus the teachers in chemistry, engineering or mechanics receive so many applications from employers for just such men that they can provide places for many as they leave their class rooms. Business men are continually looking for promising young graduates, who are often reached through some acquaintance who attended the same college. Libraries have opened a field of work for educated women who can fit themselves for the work by a short special course. Of the professions of the ministry, law and medicine, the two latter at least keep pace with the enlargement of the college and with more systematic provision for the young college man who wishes to enter business, the number of recent graduates floating about and seeking employment is as small as it ever was. The bachelor of arts who is ready to begin hard work never had a better opportunity, as much of the prejudice against this class has been removed by the fact that there are so many of them now that they can no longer claim social or intellectual superiority.

Roads in the Schools.

So much progress has been made in the agitation for good roads that several educational institutions have added the principles of road building to their curriculums. This should yield some benefits to the country in course of time. At the moment it is a recognition of the fact that a demand for road engineers is bound to come from the movement for good highways.

More to the point would be the introduction of a brief course of instruction in the elementary or high schools. The education would sooner reach the mass of people who should be behind the good roads movement. It might begin with demonstration of the fact that water will not run up hill—a vital principle persistently overlooked by road supervisors. The next natural step would be to show that water will seek the center of a hollow-backed path and will deepen the central depression. This is another point overlooked by the rural pathmaster. From these cardinal principles the course might branch out into the less abstruse verities that every hillside should carry its own water as opposed to the roadmaker's theory that a ditch at the upper side and occasional trenches across are necessary. Finally, every boy and girl should be told that a heavier load can be drawn on a good road than on a bad.

Seriously, hundreds of boys and girls go out from the public schools every year who do not know these things. Many of them never realize their truth or importance. In practice, every year, every one of these primary principles of road making is violated by hundreds of the men elected in this state to supervise construction and repair of the public highways.

The Eagle and Turkey.

While the patriotism of the late Senator Hoar led him to pay due deference to the American eagle as the national bird, he often expressed surprise that no attention had been given to one which he considered more attractive, and which was purely American in its origin, although it had been named after a foreign nation. He referred to the turkey, which in its domesticated state is used so generally on this continent. In its wild state as it was discovered by the early explorers and as it exists today the turkey is clothed with an attractive plumage, whose coloring led many to believe at first that it was some species of peacock. Specimens of the turkey were taken to Europe, and when they were brought to England by vessels that traded with Turkey, it was supposed that they came from that country and they were so named.

As a bird of prey the eagle better represents the warlike spirit which may be considered appropriate for a national emblem, but in captivity the eagle is an unclean bird, and when caged he cannot display his ability to soar to lofty heights. As a proud and handsome bird of purely American origin Mr. Hoar would have preferred that the turkey represent this country. There might be objections, even if a substitution could be made, for the strut of the gobbler too much resembles the pretense of the vain peacock to avoid the association of the comparison with the country it would represent. There is now no thought of a change of the national ensign, but it is worth while to remember the turkey does not come from the sultan's domains, but is of American origin, and its national character is not the result of its general use on Thanksgiving day.

A Denver health official writes that a man with a six-inch beard would be a curious sight in that city. Whiskers investigators are respectfully referred to Kansas and Nebraska for specimens.

There is no significance in the number of delegates in an Ohio Democratic convention except that every Buckeye Democrat expects to serve his party once in six years.

Wilkinsburg is going to have a rousing Fourth of July. If it has no room for the festivities it can bring them into one of Pittsburgh's parks.

Naturally the Leader is a bit irritable on finding that its slavish submission to the Citizens' ring has not produced the hump cut it wanted.

One woman has been sent to a hospital as a result of drinking strong tea. A good many men have collapsed under the "cold tea" habit.

Linevitch is on the point of taking the offensive, that is the road to Harbin, which is offensive enough to St. Petersburg.

Germany is worrying about Russian Poland. Absolutely unselfish, you know, never a thought about German Poland.

Dr. Leonard Levy is off for Japan on his peace mission, and the good wishes of the community go with him.

Former President Alexander has followed the example of former Vice President Hyde and paid up.

France and Germany are talking war to an extent that may lead them both to think they can fight.

If Mr. Bowen is looking for a job, vaudeville and the insurance business are both open to him.

Abdul Hamid is no longer the whole thing. A sultan in Morocco can set Europe by the ears.

Late officials are fattening the Equitable treasury, since they were found out.

The idea of asking the Leader if it is directly descended from a monkey!

It might be called a timber war in Russia because the Poles are rising.

Russia's real fighting men appear to be in the firing line in Poland.

QUIET OBSERVATIONS

By ERASMUS WILSON.

Have you ever heard of the great law of compensation?

Of course you have, for it is the law by which the equilibrium of the universe is maintained, and by which all things are evened up.

Possibly you have noticed how closely the average is kept up in nature. Comparatively few do notice such things, and usually because they are so taken up with themselves and their selfish notions.

There is one fellow who ever has a kick coming, and that is the bald-headed fellow. He just can't get over it, and heretofore it has been useless to try to convince him that it is for the better that he should be bald.

Nor can he be convinced that there is any compensation whatever for being bald. Barbers charge him just the same for a hair-cut, a shampoo or a tonic as if he had a bushy head of hair. Instead of compensation he imagines that the other thing happens. In fact, he is sometimes inclined to think that either flies were made to play pussy-wants-a-corner on his hairless pate or that his pate was made bare and smooth for the accommodation of flies.

One can readily imagine that it is most difficult for a bald-headed man to be philosophic in flytime, although some very wise and good men have been and are bald.

It doth appear that the law of compensation applies to them as well as to other men and things, but it is only recently that our wise ones have gotten on to it.

After careful observation, and no little research, a high-up medical man says that bald-headed people are not subject to consumption or other tuberculous diseases. He claims to have noted more than 5,000 cases of tuberculosis himself, and not one of the victims was bald.

He also says that he has made diligent inquiry among his professional brethren, and these fail to recall a bald one among their patients.

What more could the bald ones ask, for certainly it is a grand thing to be exempt from the great white plague.

Wouldn't you yourself rather be a bald one than to be a "lunger" or to take chances with tuberculosis in any of its various forms?

This should serve as a good lesson for those who kick against slight abnormalities, for it might be a whole lot worse with them were they free from the defects, or inconveniences, of which they complain. It should also encourage us to seek diligently for the compensation that goes along with them.

In fact, a great deal of our worrying and suffering would be cancelled in the equation of human existence if we were to seek as diligently for evidences of compensation as we do for opportunities to kick.

And, of course, without stopping to stroke your bald pate, and to feel thankful, you want to know the why and the wherefore.

The high-up medical man confesses that he doesn't know why this is thus, but sagely presumes there must be a good and sufficient reason for it.

What a fine chance is here for the microbe crank to come in and say that his pets are so busy destroying the hair that they haven't time to tackle the lungs.

And the other fellow, the one who believes that there is a constant war on between the different tribes of microbes, and that occasionally one set wipes another out, and that it so happens the laudable, or good ones, those, for instance, that keep the scalp healthy, are destroyed by their malevolent neighbors.

But how about the dead line, or "deadening," as it is sometimes described? This line is usually about as high as the ears, and is generally very sharply defined.

Physiologists tell us that the nerve supply to the part below this line is derived from the cervical centers, while the other portions of the scalp are supplied from one of the pairs of nerves distributed through the frontal regions and the air passages. This distribution subjects them to derangements due to catarrhal disorders and the like.

Is there a like compensation for defective sight and hearing?

There may well be, for the nerve supply to the eyes and ears is distributed in much the same way. So is the nerve supply to the teeth, and it is well known that catarrhal affections of the head and upper air passages are the chief causes of bad teeth, for their decay is due to an insufficient supply of nervous energy, which in turn is mainly due to diseased or disordered tissues involving the nerves themselves.

Consumption, as the name implies, is nothing more nor less than starvation, on account of which the body consumes itself. And it is generally conceded that consumption begins with catarrhal disease of the air passages.

But why should consumptives have an abundance of hair, and why should it grow rapidly and be particularly lustrous?

You have noticed, no doubt, that consumptives during the earlier stages of their trouble are full of life, brilliant in thought and wit, and excel in hearing.

This is probably due to the unusual heat in the tissues of the head and face on account of the congestion caused by the disorder or disease known as catarrh. The scalp being supplied by these overstimulated nerves produces finer hair and more of it than when nerve conditions are normal.

The people can stop the ravages of consumption, but doctors never can. It is the people themselves who encourage it by allowing the disease to develop in their children rather than by permitting afflicted ones to spit on the street or in public places.

Adenoid growths behind the soft palate and in the fauces are the hotbeds in which the disease starts. The presence of these is indicated by mouth breathing, stuffiness, mushiness of the voice, aptness to take cold, lassitude and indifference to study or exercise.

Parents notice these signals flashed up by nature, but console themselves with the theory that they will outgrow the disease of which they have symptoms, which only happens in comparatively few instances.

Why don't parents know about this? Just because they were never taught. In their school days they may have spent months, and maybe years, studying things that never can profit them anything except to win for them the name of being accomplished.

How many of the young women who return from colleges and finishing schools with certificates of accomplishment and culture know even a little bit about their own bodies in health or in disease? And what is more essential to comfort, usefulness and success in life than health?

Not knowing anything about themselves after leaving school, can they be expected to know anything about the health of children before going to school?

The Baggageman Was Frightened.

A baggageman on the Hannibal division of the Burlington was hauling a corpse into his car, and imagine his feelings when he heard a strange unnatural noise from the oblong box, saying: "Let me out of here!" When he recovered from his first fright he ran for his conductor, who arrived just in time to hear the uncanny sound. The whole train crew was called and a brave engineer investigated. Sitting near the coffin was a small square box. Listening, the engineer heard a scratching and again the voice: "Let me out of here!" The smaller box was opened and a little green parrot popped out.—Kansas City Journal.

Origin of the Word Dago.

"Dago" came into use when the Eastern Americans made their first rush to California. There they found a population of Spanish landholders, and to their imagination every other Spaniard was named Diego. So they called them dagos, and let them go at that, and America has since applied the name to every man born south of Marseilles.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

TALKED OF IN GOTHAM

By FRANK A. PARKER.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, June 25.—The present plan for purifying the air in the subway is the same as that suggested by Messrs. N. N. Ferran and W. H. Miller of Pittsburgh, who were interviewed on the subject in this column within a week after the first regular train was run in the underground in New York. These two gentlemen happened to be in the city at the time, and both declared that the subway would not be an unqualified success until a plan was adopted to draw the dead air from the tunnel, replacing it with a purer atmosphere. Then the promoters of the subway declared that the condition was only temporary, but it has since proved that the longer the trains are run the worse the condition becomes. It is especially bad these days, when the humidity is so great that there is no comfort to be found above ground, to say nothing of the stuffy feeling that pervades the underground.

It seems that the foul air seeks the lower level of the subway, going down through every opening, and hanging there to be breathed into the lungs of the victims. During the damp hot weather comfort is out of the question, and the subway has the depressive effect of a dark, noisome dungeon that has not seen sunlight in years. Therefore it is to be expected that unless some plan is adopted along the entire line to change the air the conditions will grow worse as the days pass, and when the real hot days of summer come subway trips will be almost unbearable.

Suction Fans Are Now Proposed.

The plan as proposed by Messrs. Ferran and Miller was to put in suction fans every few blocks, the same sort of fans as are used to draw foul air from the coal mines of Pennsylvania. By the same action pure air is drawn into the mines, and the safety of the miners is thus very greatly increased. It was estimated at that time that the cost of installation would be less than half a million dollars, a very small sum when the immensity of the subway undertaking is considered. The cost of maintenance would be very slight, because the company has plenty of power. By this means there would be an entire change in the air of the tunnel every three minutes, and it would necessarily be pure and wholesome. The interview with the two Pittsburghers was taken up at the time it was printed in The Gazette by two or three New York papers, but, not understanding the situation in the Pennsylvania mining regions, they did not appreciate how well it would fit the conditions here.

Plans for an Experiment.

The present plan of installing suction fans in the subway is to be only an experiment in one or two places to see if it will work. One member of the transit commission suggested that ordinary electric fans be installed at the stations. "Although they won't do much good," he said, "the movement of the fans will make it seem cooler, and that will go a long way to make the people comfortable." But Americans are becoming so accustomed to being humbugged that they are growing more like the man from Missouri every day—they want to be shown. For that reason the small fan was dropped and the suction fan taken up.

Board of Health Getting Active.

Now that the board of health has taken up the matter there is likely to be some definite action regarding the purifying of the air in the subway. If the people of the city become convinced that the air of the tunnel is not conducive to good health there will be such a ruction raised as will cause the transit commission to sit up and take notice. The general run of official boards in New York are more or less ornamental, and although the transit commission has done much for which we should be thankful there are times when it is decidedly slow to move. This would be one of those times were it not for the fact that the board of health began to ask questions and to seek a way to break into the matter. As soon as this feature developed the commission took up the matter of fans, and promises that something shall be done at once.

Doctor Finds Air Is Curative.

One doctor has discovered that the foul odor in the big ditch is caused by the great amount of ozone in the air. He says its curative powers can not be overestimated for some things, and has been recommending long rides in the subway, and plenty of them, to patients afflicted with malaria. According to his reports, they immediately feel a beneficial effect, and if the rides are persisted in long enough a permanent cure may be effected. At first, he says, he had great trouble in convincing his patients that the air of the tunnel was anything but harmful, but after getting them to try it they felt so much better that he has added it to his regular practice.

Employes Below Ground Are Healthy.

"Have you never noticed that all men employed in the subway are strong and healthy?" inquired this physician the other day. "It is because they are impregnated with ozone. I know a number of motormen and guards, some of whom were affected with malaria before they took up this work below ground. Now they are fully cured and were never in better physical condition in their lives. This is largely, if not entirely, due to their working hours being spent underground." However, it may be said in passing that the interborough company is very careful to select only men in practically perfect physical condition, so it is not surprising that the subway employes are apparently in good health. The ozone may or may not be responsible.

Not Seeking a Health Resort.

Notwithstanding what our friend the doctor says, the fact remains that the passengers of the subway are not seeking a health resort, but want to get to and from business in the quickest and most comfortable manner possible. Though there may be a lot of spare ozone in the tunnel, few people appreciate the fact, and would prefer the sort of air that is dealt out to them in the old natural way above ground. If they cannot have that no amount of argument about the health-giving properties of the subway air will prevent a series of good old American "kicks" that may be expected to awaken even so dead a thing as the average New York city board of commissioners.

STATE GLEANINGS

Was She Satisfied?

Joseph M. Wilson of Bourn Denver township and Miss Della Folsom of Iowa, ages 45 and 38, respectively, whom it appears have never before seen each other until yesterday, and who have been carrying on a correspondence for some time, with a view to matrimony, both went to Beaver yesterday morning, she going to the county jail, a place fixed upon for meeting, and he going to the court house, where he applied for a marriage license, expecting to meet his intended after securing the license. The license was not granted, owing to a telephone message having been received at the clerk of court's office from Sheriff Bliss, notifying the man to first come to the county jail, if he went to the jail, where he met the woman, and she decided that she should first visit the Wilson farm, her future home, before getting married, as she wished to first see whether she was satisfied with the place. They went to the farm later in the day. It appears that Wilson had advertised in the Chicago newspapers for a wife; that she answered the advertisement, they corresponding with each other up to a few days ago, and exchanging photos.—Darlington News in Beaver Falls Review.

Old Fashioned Barn Raising.

On Wednesday, June 14, there was a great gathering of the friends and neighbors of E. L. Knepper to help him "raise" the fine new barn that he is erecting on his farm. The barn is 50x110 feet, and there were 80 men that took dinner on that day, and 100 ladies present to help serve the many good things that had been prepared for the event, and about 20 children and babies. It was one of the largest crowds that ever gathered in that section at a "raising" and they had a most pleasant day, and there was not an accident, and every piece of timber went to its place without a misfit, speaking well for the workmanship of Fred Dively, the boss carpenter. The thrifty housewife had made ample provision to care for this large crowd at both dinner and supper.—Meyersdale Republican.

An Uncommon Black Snake.

A blacksnake was killed on the lawn of Mr. J. M. Grove's residence Saturday evening measuring four feet 1½ inches. The reptile was evidently intending to enter the house, for it was found but a few steps from the front porch. This is quite an uncommon occurrence in this community.—New Lebanon News in Greenville Advance Argus.

Looted the Boarding House.

On Wednesday morning a stranger called at the house of Jacob Free in Wilbur street and asked for board and lodging, saying that he had a position in town and intended to go to work that day. A Freak of Lightning.

Lightning played a peculiar prank Saturday afternoon when it killed a team of horses, shocked the driver and tore the heel from the shoe of a man who was walking more than 100 feet from the spot where the animals were killed. William Shank was driving a team belonging to James S. Blair along the Armagh road, south of town, during the electrical storm, when a sharp bolt descended and struck the horses, killing them instantly. Shank was considerably shocked, but has fully recovered. Frank R. Gilmore of Grand View, who was walking home at the time, was within 100 feet of the horses when they were killed. A portion of the bolt struck him, split the sole of his shoe, removed the heel and left the man uninjured.—Indiana Progress.

Beating the Anti-Cigarette Law.

The boys can easily beat the anti-cigarette law. The other day a boy went into a Warren cigar store, bought a little smoking tobacco, stole some cigarette papers and then skipped. He was then provided with enough "coffin nails" for himself and chums. If the kids have money they have no trouble about smoking all the cigarettes they want. The best law for the whole country is the Indiana law where cigarette smoking by boys is prohibited, but that law is probably a dead-letter like other laws.—Warren Mail.

GREATER PITTSBURGH DECISION.

The decision of the supreme court against the consolidation of Pittsburgh and Allegheny has inclined Pittsburgh to renew the agitation for a division of the state, and to have it done in such a way as to leave the supreme court on this side of the divide.—Philadelphia Press.

The decision of the supreme court against the Greater Pittsburgh act is important as an expression of that tribunal's disposition to enforce more broadly the constitutional prohibition of local and special legislation. That this was a local and special act applying to Pittsburgh and Allegheny alone was not denied nor disguised. * * * Judge Mestrezat has no difficulty in demonstrating its futile evasion, without contradicting any previous decisions which have sustained legislation actually as specialized as this.—Philadelphia Ledger.

It is to be hoped that the obstacles in the way of consolidation will be eventually overcome. The communities which lie about the confluence of the Allegheny and Monongahela rivers have common interests and a common ambition, and their welfare will be materially advanced by the establishment of a common municipal government. A Greater Pittsburgh would enjoy a better water supply, better police and fire protection and a hundred other benefits which come with the unification and betterment of local administration. Pittsburgh has a great future before it. Its population is growing rapidly and its industries are constantly expanding. It is plainly destined to hold high rank among American cities. It is time that its separate segments began to weld themselves together and take up their true life as a great urban center.—New York Tribune.

Rattlesnakes and Cyclones.

The family of John Moore, in Northern Comanche county, I. T., went to a place of refuge from a tornado the other night only to find they had gotten into a cave barefooted with a rattlesnake. The interior of the cave was in complete darkness when the inmates were startled by hearing the unmistakable sound made by a rattler. Mr. Moore lastly struck a match and by its faint glimmer saw the snake in the attitude of striking. The match went out and the family began to scream. Another match was lighted, and the snake was still visible, and rattling furiously. Then Mr. Moore made a flying leap for the steps, jumping over the snake, opened the door and secured a pitchfork. Then while his wife held a match he killed the rattler, which measured over three feet long.—Kansas City Journal.

PICKED UP IN LOBBIES.

Brings Shovel from Panama.

A long-handled shovel which was used for a few months in the digging of the Panama canal was brought through Pittsburgh last night in the baggage of a man returning home from the isthmus. He was James Mayers of St. Louis, and is among the score of Americans who are hastening away from the fever-infected swamps of Panama. "The anxiety of many Americans to flee from the scourge of yellow fever has caused almost a panic among the residents of Colon," said Mayers. "I went there early last December, and like many others, I had not considered the climatic conditions which I was called upon to endure. The cost of living is high and the surroundings are loathsome. The newspapers on the isthmus are stirring up some bad feeling among the employes of the government, and this, coupled with the fear of a plague of yellow fever, caused discontent and homesickness in March there was a rush back to America. The ships were overcrowded and many were compelled to wait for weeks before securing passage, even in the steerage. Some are going to Colombia, Central America and Jamaica and half of those in the canal zone are longing to come home. I did not use the shovel I brought in the construction of the canal, but I am engaged in a sub-contractor's office in Colon, but brought it as a relic from a place to which I pray I shall never be obliged to return."

Loops and a Puzzle.

A distinguished looking man walked into the Hotel Lincoln yesterday morning, asked for a room and picked a new pen out of the potato. He took up a blotter, thanked Sam Bridel when the register was shoved his way and proceeded to write. He made 10 loops and two blots on the line and wrote "Phila." after it. Mr. Bridel did not remember the name of the new guest but then, but handed over the key to the boiler, thought real hard for a moment and then said: "Show Mr. Kirkbride to his room." The guest, who had written the series of loops on the register looked amazed. He was Judge John E. Kirkbride of Philadelphia and for a quarter of a century has been famous among hotel clerks as the man who arms himself with the most puzzling signature. He makes all the letters alike in long wavy loops stretched out in vertical fashion. It would not be so difficult to decipher were it not for two important blots which a bad pen invariably makes after the sixth and the eleventh loops. When the register is filled slightly upward, however, the name can be read by any person experienced in untangling handwriting.

"Down to New York for a Day."

"I'm just running down east for a day," said Attorney A. M. Neeper last night, as he bought two July magazines and a joke book at the Union station news stand and started out for the New York special. "To say this is an excuse now for a Pittsburgh business man as it is to hear him speak of going to dinner. The Pittsburgh at the helm of the Ohio and the Pittsburgh (sometimes called New York) on Manhattan Island are becoming more closely attached each year. Really it doesn't seem like leaving home when you walk up Broadway and meet people whom you saw in Fifth avenue the day before."

WILL SELL OUT BIG CONCESSION

J. P. Morgan Is Offered $7,000,000 for His Railroad Rights in China.

PORTION OF LINE IS BUILT

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU
Room 10, Postal Building.
WASHINGTON, D. C., June 25.

Seven million dollars in round numbers has been offered by the Chinese government for the surrender of the concession for the building of the Canton-Hankow railroad, now held by J. P. Morgan & Co., with American and Belgium associates. Sir Chentung Liang-Cheng, the Chinese minister to the United States, recently engaged in negotiations with Elihu Root, representing Mr. Morgan. The proposition made was that China buy in the concession and the indebtedness against it. The Pekin government has tentatively approved the proposition. It now remains for the directors of the China-American Development Company, in which Mr. Morgan has a controlling interest, to act upon the matter at a meeting to be held in New York early in July.

China gave the concession to the American company in 1897. Only 22 miles of the railroad have been built. China complains that the methods of the company have caused the Chinese to lose faith in this particular enterprise. China has paid to the company several millions of dollars in Chinese government bonds at 90. A portion of these bonds were sold by the company, but the majority are now held by Mr. Morgan and his associates. If the deal is closed these bonds will be delivered to the Chinese government.

It is thought not improbable that the Belgian bondholders interested in the company may be loath to surrender the concession. The American interests are in control, however, and have expressed a willingness to sell. In certain governmental circles there is some regret at the prospective surrender of the concession. It is realized that an American railway from Canton to Hankow would do much to assist the development of American trade and sustain an increased American prestige.

FIRE-BUGS WORKING OVER IN ALLEGHENY

Marshall McGill and North Side Police Investigate Alleged Case of Arson.

Councilman's Home Burns.

Fire Marshal W. D. McGill, with Detectives Speer and King of Allegheny investigated a case of suspected incendiarism yesterday afternoon in a three-story brick building owned by William Smith, at 518 Dunlow street. The fire was discovered Saturday night after 11 o'clock, while a dance was going on on the third floor of the building. There was considerable excitement while the guests were leaving the building. An alarm was turned in, but the damage done by the flames was slight.

Assistant Fire Chief Peter Schatzman discovered that rags, saturated with oil, had been stuffed into a hole in the plaster at the foot of the stairway on the second floor. Schatzman reported this to the police. It is said the neighbors had objected to the use to which the hall on the third floor of the building was put each Saturday night, and warned Smith if the dances were not discontinued, the building would be fired. Some arrests may be made, as the police are said to have the names of several suspects.

Fire was discovered in the residence of Councilman Charles Murray of the Fourth ward, Allegheny, last night. The house is at 511 East Ohio street and is a three-story brick. The Murray family was not at home and the cause of the fire is unknown. An alarm was turned in and the blaze quickly extinguished. The damage amounts to $700 and is covered by insurance.

ALLEGHENY MAN SHOT.

Neighbor Who Tries to Act as Peace-Maker Is Punched and Retaliates by Shooting.

Lieut. Fred Fleck of the Allegheny police yesterday arrested Joe Schmelz, who lives on the third floor at 511 Eleanor street, and a charge of felonious shooting will be lodged against him this morning. Charles S. Hart, who lives in the first floor of the Eleanor street house, is in the Allegheny General hospital with a bullet wound inflicted by a 38-caliber revolver belonging to Schmelz.

The ball entered above Hart's abdomen and came out just above the heart. Despite his almost miraculous escape from death, he is not in a serious condition and will be able to leave the hospital in a few days.

Schmelz says he returned home at 1 o'clock Sunday morning and found Hart abusing his family. Hart resented Schmelz's interference and struck his neighbor in the mouth. Schmelz then went upstairs and returning continued the quarrel. Hart was shot and Schmelz could not be found until yesterday.

OYSTER BAY IS READY TO WELCOME HOME PRESIDENT

Mr. Roosevelt Will Find a New Library Awaiting Him, a Truck Garden With Strawberries, and a Water-Works Plant.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., June 25.—When Mrs. Roosevelt arrives at Sagamore Hill tomorrow she will find a hustling lot of people who are getting the place in readiness for the arrival of the president next Thursday. The finishing touches are being put on the library, but the interior furnishings will not be completed until after Mrs. Roosevelt arrives. She will personally supervise the work.

When the president reaches Sagamore Hill he will find many pleasing changes in his home. Noah Seaman, the superintendent of the place, and his assistants have been getting the grounds in fine shape and the interior of the house has undergone a cleaning from cellar to garret. The tennis grounds are in fine condition. The old windmill is down, the debris has been cleared away and an engine installed to provide water for the buildings. That part of the estate formerly used by Mr. Roosevelt for hurdle-jumping has been converted into an agricultural field.

The grounds never looked better than at present. The flower garden is in fine shape and Mrs. Roosevelt will find an abundance of her strawberry patches on Long Island. His table will be plentifully supplied this year with the products from the garden.

The president will arrive here at 11 o'clock next Thursday morning. It is understood he will come on the Sylph, that he will land in a launch at the Seawanhaka pier in this place and proceed to his carriage at the depot. This will enable his neighbors to see him and extend a greeting. If the above itinerary is carried out the float at the dock, the depot and Library square in the village will be decorated in the president's honor.

Former Sheriff Jerome B. Johnson has made arrangements with the station master of the Long Island railroad to rope off the depot. The welcome will be purely informal and all will join in the greeting. Center Island is taking great interest in the home-coming of the president and it is probable a presidential salute of 21 guns will be fired at the anchorage. Mr. Roosevelt is a member of the club.

A telegraph office has been opened under the Oyster Bay bank for the convenience of the villagers. It will also be used as press headquarters during the president's stay here.

ARE HOLDING ON TO MR. WALLACE

Secretary Taft and Chairman Shonts Confer With the Canal Engineer.

MAY NOT RESIGN TILL FALL

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU
Herald Building, Herald Square.
NEW YORK, June 25.

Secretary of War Taft, John F. Wallace, chief engineer of the Panama canal, T. P. Shonts, chairman of the canal commission, and William Nelson Cromwell, counsel for the commission, held an important conference on the canal question in the Hotel Manhattan today. Beyond admitting it was of importance, however, none of them would reveal afterward any of the subjects discussed or the decisions arrived at. There will be other conferences before Mr. Taft starts for the Philippines.

This conference was brought about, it is believed, by the recent return of Mr. Wallace from the isthmus, but it is not known whether his visit portends his resignation unconditionally or conditionally, if certain plans decided upon already are not changed. It is believed he is dissatisfied, whether about dredging contracts already let, or generally, he will not say. In fact, he has kept even his whereabouts in this city secret, refusing to see any but close personal friends and absolutely declining to talk about canal affairs.

"Has Mr. Wallace resigned?" Mr. Taft was asked.

"I cannot tell you anything about that."

Friends of Mr. Wallace are of opinion he has not yet resigned, and that if certain suggestions he may make after a close inspection of the ground are adopted he may remain in office. In any event, it was said, he would not sever his connection with the work for some time.

President Roosevelt has ordered the consulting engineers of the canal to meet on September 1 to decide whether the waterway shall be a sea level or lock system. Mr. Wallace will, it is thought, remain in office until after this has been decided to give the commission the benefit of data he has accumulated on the isthmus.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—(Special.)—Chief Engineer Wallace has received an offer from an important corporation in this country that carries with it a salary of $60,000 a year. This was the reason for his sudden departure from the isthmus and his arrival in New York on Thursday.

Although he has as not yet resigned his position as chief engineer it may be assumed that, in view of this offer, Mr. Wallace is seriously considering such a course. His present salary is $25,000. In justice to his family Mr. Wallace feels that he should not refuse offhand the flattering proposition which he has received. Should he resign as chief engineer he may consent to continue his connection with the canal work as a member of the board of consulting engineers.

Mr. Wallace's retirement would be a great disappointment to the president and secretary of war and it is understood that strong efforts are being made to induce him to remain in his present position, or at least, to withhold his resignation until the final plans for the construction of the canal have been decided upon and are ready for submission to congress.

PROHIBITIONISTS ARE ACTIVE IN SOMERSET

SOMERSET, PA., June 25.—(Special.)—The political situation in Somerset county is unsettled. The Prohibition party has placed a full county ticket in the field. Democrats and Republicans have also named candidates for all the offices. The Prohibition vote has heretofore been small, but this year their convention appointed a committee with authority to establish a party newspaper and in other ways prepare for a fight to the finish. A campaign fund has been raised.

CELEBRATES ITS 50TH ANNIVERSARY

West End Methodist Episcopal Congregation Observes Semi-Centennial.

THREE CHARTER MEMBERS LIVE

Former communicants from all sections of Western Pennsylvania and from other states gathered in the West End Methodist Episcopal church, South Main street, yesterday, and joined in the celebration of the semi-centennial of the church. The building was decorated with potted plants and flowers and special music found a place in the program of address and song.

The Rev. Dr. David Flanigan, present pastor, was in charge of the services, which were held morning, afternoon and evening. In the morning the Rev. Dr. James H. Hollingshead of Cleveland, who was local minister in the Temperanceville circuit when the congregation was formed in 1855, preached the morning sermon, taking for his theme, "In the Olden Times." He spoke entertainingly of the history of the congregation and the men who helped form it and occupied its pulpit.

In the afternoon a Sunday school missionary jubilee was held when addresses were made by local and visiting clergymen. Among the speakers were the Rev. Dr. Dixon of the Christian Advocate, Captain John A. Wood and the Rev. Dr. H. L. Chapman of Aspinwall. Last evening the sermon was preached by Dr. Chapman, who is a former pastor of the congregation.

Three members of the congregation who have worshipped in the church since its organization 50 years ago were present during all three services yesterday. They were Joseph Smith, aged 81; T. P. Hershberger, aged 74, and Capt. John A. Wood, aged 74, all of the West End.

In the spring of 1854 a revival was held in what was then Temperanceville, under direction of the Rev. W. D. Lemon. As a result four churches were formed into the Temperanceville circuit, with the Rev. C. H. Jackson as the first pastor. He is still living and makes his home in Canton, O., but owing to ill health was unable to attend the services yesterday. The congregation has enjoyed the pastorates of several noted clergymen, four of whom are now presiding elders in the Pittsburgh conference.

New Industries Drive Dale Out.

"Nickey" Dale, a familiar character in Sharpsburg, faces the prospects of having to move after already undergoing one change of location necessitated by the encroachment of new industries. Dale occupied a one-story frame building in Bridge street as a store, in the rear of which he lived. The ground on which his store was located was recently acquired by a planing mill and he had to move. His building was placed on rollers and moved down the street to a point just below Pine creek. It now develops that the store is on disputed property, two people claiming the title.

TAFT GETS MOST WORK OUT OF THE PRESIDENT

Mr. Roosevelt Admits His Secretary of War Keeps Him Very Busy—Some Mid-Summer Activity at the White House.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, June 25.—"Secretary Taft and I work together along the same lines and in the same way," said the president recently. "He can get more work out of me than any man I ever saw, and I can get more work out of him than any man I was ever associated with."

Secretary Taft during the last week has been making good his record of getting more work out of the president than any man who ever had charge of the Washington "Ad." He has kept the president employed day and night and the amount of topics the president has covered in the last six days probably exceeds anything Mr. Roosevelt has performed since he entered the White House as president.

He started in by taking up the Bowen-Loomis controversy, and hit Mr. Bowen harder than any American diplomat in recent years has been hit. Then he decided that he would make amends to Mr. Loomis for the judgment given on his "indiscretions" while he was American minister at Caracas.

Next the president addressed himself to the consideration of Paul Morton, the retiring secretary of the navy, in connection with the Santa Fe rebate. The president in deciding this case had to deal not only with the effect his action in exonerating Mr. Morton would have on the party and the country, but also what effect it would have on his campaign for railroad rate legislation at the next session of congress. The president decided to take chances and gave Mr. Morton his clean bill of health.

Then the president had to handle the threatened Chinese boycott of American goods brought about by our enforcement of the Chinese exclusion law. This was a very delicate question and required many conferences and considerable tact in placating Mr. Metcalf, the secretary of commerce and labor. But the president succeeded in bringing Secretary Metcalf into line and the formal announcement on that subject went to the world today.

All this time the president was constantly taking wide excursions into old world diplomacy. It is no secret that Mr. Roosevelt likes his new job as secretary of state, and indeed, he has been acting secretary of state for several weeks, with all that that implies. He has been seeing diplomats at the White House at all hours of the day and night. He has been consulting with them about the Moroccan question, about the peace negotiations between Japan and Russia, and especially about an armistice between the belligerents in the far east.

But the above tasks have only been a small portion of the president's work for the week. He had to take up for consideration the cry for a "square deal" raised by Charleston, S. C., in consequence of the transfer of Civil Engineer Walker. Charleston raised such a hubbub over the transfer that the president suspended the order for the transfer temporarily until there could be a fuller hearing in the case.

He next had to take up another case and in this it was not the secretary of the navy he reversed, but Theodore Roosevelt. Lieut. Hamilton Foley had been dismissed from the army by the president on the grounds of a court-martial which had taken ex-parte testimony. The president pronounced him guiltless and ordered him reinstated.

The president still found time to take a trip to Massachusetts to deliver addresses at Williams and Clarke colleges. He will start tomorrow on another trip to New England and will make speeches at three college commencements.

Bishop Whitehead Preaches the Baccalaureate Sermon Before School Graduates.

THE MESSIAH IS TO BE SUNG

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CALIFORNIA, PA., June 26.—The annual commencement events at the Southwestern State Normal school began here this morning with the baccalaureate sermon by the Right Rev. Cortlandt Whitehead, bishop of the Protestant Episcopal diocese of Pittsburgh.

Class reunions will be held tomorrow morning. The oratorio, "The Messiah," will be sung at 3 p. m. under direction of Charles S. Cornell, with 25 members of the Pittsburgh orchestra. In the evening the biggest alumni reunion ever held here will gather, to be followed by a banquet.

The Old Timers' reunion will be held at 1:30 p. m. Tuesday. Judge J. A. McIlvaine of Washington will preside. The annual literary contest will take place in the evening. Congressman E. F. Acheson, Director Hamerschlag and Prof. Grant Norris are the judges.

Scarcely any affair is anticipated with greater interest than "The Messiah" tomorrow afternoon. It seems like an ambitious performance, but its success is said to be assured. The soloists are Miss Louise L. Combs, Mrs. Mabel H. Drum, Edward Vaughn and John Atkinson. The chorus is as follows:

Another Successful Sale.

The sale of a portion of the stock of the Pittsburgh Pickling and Preserving Company by Fred Volquarts, stock and bond broker of the House building, Pittsburgh, has been another great success along the co-operative line. The first allotment of the stock has nearly been disposed of at $10 per share, par value. The next block which will be placed on the market in the near future will sell as high as $12.50 per share and possibly higher. The success of this business is due principally to Mr. Volquarts' broad views of advertising. Through his advertising he has had many inquiries from neighboring states from people who are anxious to share in the profits of the Pickling and Preserving business. As a guarantee that the stock of the company is safe and sound, a prominent local bank has agreed to buy the stock of any dissatisfied stockholders at the price paid by them. This has been done through the untiring efforts of Mr. Volquarts to insure the public the best investment that has ever been conceived. In addition to this stock, Mr. Volquarts deals largely in mining stocks and other unlisted stocks and bonds. A specialty is made of the stock of the Pittsburg Consolidated M., M. & T. Co., in which sales he has figured prominently.

The Death Roll.

John Agnew.

John Agnew, aged 86, a retired glass manufacturer, died yesterday morning at 11:30 o'clock, at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. John P. Hunter, of 1019 North Highland avenue, of old age. He was born on a farm in Beaver county, coming to Pittsburgh with his parents at the age of 6 years. He was a son of the late Catherine and Robert Agnew, his father having fought at Fort Duquesne during the Revolutionary war. At the age of 18 Mr. Agnew engaged in the glass business, in which he continued until his retirement 18 years ago. He was one of the founders of the Agnew & Chambers Glass Company of Pittsburgh, whose works are on the South Side. He was married to Miss Mary Ann Chambers of this city, who died 15 years ago. Mr. Agnew was a member of the Sixth United Presbyterian church, and is survived by the following children: Mrs. J. P. Hunter, wife of Attorney John P. Hunter; Mrs. E. J. Young of Verona, and John C. Agnew of the firm of Dixon & Co. of this city. The funeral will take place from his daughter's residence tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Isaac Lehman.

Isaac Lehman, aged 71, died at his home, 1513 Buena Vista street, Allegheny, yesterday afternoon. Mr. Lehman was born in Dieberg, Germany, and came to America 50 years ago, locating in Baltimore. Shortly afterward he came to Pittsburgh and established himself in the wholesale clothing business at Sixth avenue and Liberty street. He had been a director of the Reformed Congregation Rodeph Shalom and treasurer of the Concordia club for many years. He was also a member of the Order of Bnai B'rith, Heptasophs, A. O. U. W. and F. and A. M. He was also identified with many charitable organizations. He is survived by his widow; one son, Milton; five daughters, Mrs. Louis Kingsbacher, Mrs. Samuel Kingsbacher, Mrs. Samuel Kaufman, Mrs. Israel Rosenthal and Mrs. Aaron Feuchtwanger; one brother, Moses, and two sisters, Mrs. David Hollander and Mrs. Herman Hollander. Funeral services, which will be private, will be held at the family residence tomorrow afternoon.

William McClure Kerr.

William McClure Kerr, aged 37, died in West Alexander, Pa., on Saturday. He was the only son of Benjamin Bakewell Kerr, formerly of this city but now of California, and grandson of the Rev. John and Anne Bakewell Kerr. Mr. Kerr spent most of his life in Pittsburgh and was well known in connection with manufacturing interests. His health failing him about four years ago he was obliged to retire from business. The funeral services will be held tomorrow at 10:30 a. m. at the residence of his uncle, the Rev. Dr. John Elliot Wright, 125 Linden street, Edgewood.

Mrs. Carolina Schuetz.

Mrs. Carolina Schuetz, aged 84, widow of Henry Schuetz, died last night at 9:45 o'clock, at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. John E. Haines, 218 Mathilda street, of old age. She was born in Germany and came to this country in 1845, settling in Pittsburgh, where she has since lived. She was a member of the Smithfield Street German Lutheran Evangelical church and is survived by a son, Henry Schuetz, of the Schuetz, Renziehausen Company, and a daughter, Mrs. Ada Haines, wife of John E. Haines, assistant cashier of the Federal National bank.

Obituary Notes.

Mrs. George McCormick, formerly of Irwin, died yesterday in Jeannette from consumption. She was 73 years old.

Thomas G. Thomas, aged 75, died yesterday morning at 8 o'clock at his home, 1600 Clark street. Funeral services will be held from his late residence tomorrow at 2 p. m.

Eli Coulter, formerly county surveyor of Jefferson county and for many years city surveyor of Punxsutawney, died suddenly yesterday from heart trouble. He was about 75 years old.

Attorney W. K. Gaston, aged 38 years, died Saturday night, at East Liverpool, O., after a week's illness following heat prostration. It is conceded he would have been chosen mayor of this city at the coming election. He leaves a widow and one child.

Mrs. J. E. Roberts, aged 90 years, widow of Joseph Roberts, is dead at her home in New Castle. Mrs. Roberts was born in Wales, and came to this country in 1845, locating at Pittsburgh. In 1865 she came to New Castle, where she has since resided. She is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Charles P. North of New Castle.

LIVERYMEN THE OBJECT OF SUNDAY CRUSADE

IRWIN, June 25.—(Special.)—All the livery stables were closed today. People who drove here and stopped for feed were refused. Private citizens opened their stables so animals could be fed. When Frank Try of Wilkinsburg found he could not get feed for his team he claimed this would come under the cruelty to animals law and he called up Humane Agent Levi Cline of Greensburg. Cline came to Irwin later and told the liverymen horses brought there must be fed and the Sunday law would not affect them. The Sunday crusade is being waged only against the liverymen.

BISHOP OF DUNKARDS CELEBRATES ANNIVERSARY

MEYERSDALE, June 25. — Yesterday was the fiftieth anniversary of the election to the ministry of Bishop Conrad G. Lint, pastor of the local congregation of the German Baptist Brethren, commonly known as "Dunkards." Bishop Lint was born in Meyers Mills, now Meyersdale, in April, 1834. He worked in the blacksmith shop of his father, using every means at hand to educate himself. He entered the ministry June 24, 1855, and has been all these years pastor of the congregation over which he presides today.

DIFFICULTY WITH MEN CLOSES DOWN MINES

BELLAIRE, O., June 25.—(Special.)—The large mines operated by the Wheeling Steel & Iron Company at Benwood, W. Va., closed down Saturday and will remain idle indefinitely. Difficulty existed between the men and the company regarding the laying of steel tracks after the installation of the motor system. The mines employ about 200 men.

B. & B.

In the Summer—of all times, the week before the Fourth—is when people want to buy new and pretty things.

Extraordinary efforts have been made to have every department complete with that kind—ready-to-wear and otherwise.

Not only large, complete stocks of the latest and best—but bought and sold on a price basis that justifies this advertisement for 4th of July wants, and that will bring results.

walking skirts, $8.50

Bought East last week—and bought well.

Handsomely trimmed with Lace and Embroidery—big, full skirts.

Women's New White Linen Suits, $5.00 to $45.00.

Women's New White Linen Separate Coats, $5.00 to $35.00.

fine plumes

It's fine Ostrich Plumes that are meant—not Wool Feathers.

Bear that in mind.

Today a Sale of Black and White Ostrich Plumes—$2.00 and $2.50—prices less than any similar Ostrich Plumes have ever been offered by the store—16 and 18 inches long—fluffy and beautifully curled.

When you come to see the Plumes you'll notice a specially determined effort has been made to provide charming New Millinery for ante-Fourth of July trade.

Particularly impressive Trimmed Hats at $3.00—Suit Hats and for general wear.

For dressy wear a special case at $15.00—extra fine—Hats a Fifth Avenue Milliner would get twice as much for.

Untrimmed Shapes—for those who delight in doing their own trimming, 35c to $8.00.

Special values at 50c, 75c and $1.50.

Foliage at prices you'll find save money.

white shirtwaists

New assortments at $1.00, $1.50, $2.00 and $3.00.

All showing the newest kinks of Fashion in a dozen different ways.

White Shirtwaists, 50c to $35.00.

Doing a fine Shirtwaist business—doing it with large assortments of the newest and choicest at prices less.

sale

3,000 yards St. Gall Embroidered Flouncings, 9 to 17 inches, 25c—open work, English Eyelet and solid Embroidery.

Thirty-five different patterns in these wide Petticoat Flouncings—thirty-five doesn't seem many when read about—but when you have that many different patterns to select from, you'll find it quite a large variety.

Not in years—if ever—have we sold as well made beautiful wide Embroidery Flouncings at the price.

It's a lot worth advertising and worth seeing.

When you do see you'll be surprised at the styles, widths and values at 25c.

Also special lot 16 to 18 inch Corset Cover Embroideries, 25c—made on nice medium weight Victoria Lawn.

Superb assortments Corset Cover Embroideries, 25c to $1.50 a yard.

St. Gall Insertings—over two hundred patterns—Swiss, Nainsook and Cambric, 6¼ to 75 cent grades at 5 to 50 cents.

Insertions are in great demand and we own a large stock—bought away below the market—and buyers will find evidence that they were—when they see this stock of Insertions and the Prices.

white robes

Some Fashion writer recently said, "The inestimable robe"—and went on to tell how beautiful—how nearly ready to wear—and that while the first cost or price of the Robe sounded high—yet when taken to the dressmaker—no trimmings or other accessories being necessary—it could be completed so easily and quickly—as the skirt is ready made with the exception of fitting around the hips—and only the waist to be made.

Therefore a Robe is a wise investment.

All the handsome Laces or Embroideries in exclusive patterns and in ample quantity with each waist—the skirt having same patterns of Laces or Embroideries already set in.

Handsome White Batiste Robes, $9.00 to $40.00.

Hand embroidered White Linen Robes and Dress Patterns, $10.00 to $40.00.

1,000 White Waist Patterns, 35, 50, 75c and $1.00—and up to $25.00.

Altogether the largest and most beautiful stock of pretty things—in Laces, Embroideries and Novelties in this Lace Department ever submitted for people's consideration right now when everybody wants them.

Additional help all this week for the largely increased business that the Laces and Embroideries and prices thereof will bring.

silks, 50c

of such character as will throng the Silk Aisle today with women who read this public notice.

Choice Foulards and genuine Shanghai Indias—neat patterns in staple colors, 50c a yard—none of the lot was ever less than 75c—many sold for $1.00 and $1.25—therefore, this is an extraordinary offer.

1,000 yards fine lustrous yard wide—36 inches—Black Taffeta, 90c a yard—these represent a reduction made for the simple reason, we'd like business in the Silk Section to look up a bit—no other reason whatsoever.

Other Yard wide Black Taffetas, 65, 75, 85c up to $2.00 a yard.

Lot 27 inch Colored Chiffon Taffetas, 75 cts.

Why should Colored Chiffon Taffetas—if the colors are right—be reduced?—some might ask.

Considering the prestige they enjoy among fashionable folk—there's no reason they should.

These were reduced to create more business—undesirable goods at any price won't do it—so then, isn't it best business to do so with desirable goods?

Fine showing Changeable Taffetas, 50c—all choice new Glace effects—quite proper—many combinations.

Tables of attractive Dress Silks, 35, 50, and 65c.

fine dressy cottons and White Goods.

Not too late if bought today or early this week to have them made up for the 4th.

Extra assortments of beautiful medium and fine Wash Goods and Dressy Novelties, 10c to $1.50 a yard.

2,500 yards 40 cent Corded Dimity Shirt Madras, 15c—White and Pink and Tan grounds.

More of these fine 40 cent goods will be bought at 15c for Shirtwaist Dresses, Waists and Children's wear than for shirts.

Late importations just in of fine White St. Gall Dress Swisses—Dot and Embroidered Figures and stylish all over patterns—so desirable for waists and dresses, 25 to 75c.

White American Swisses and Pretty ones, 10, 15 and 20c.

Batistes, 5,000 yards of choice 12½ cent Batistes—Rose, Dresden and other printings at 10c—not much less, but 2½ cents a yard is worth saving.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

ST. LOUIS, MO., June 25.—Fred Clarke and his bold band of Pirates stole into this city in the early hours of this morning on their second trip to St. Louis and shortly before 4 p. m. gave Jack Thielman an awful walloping in the shortest space of time seen at a local grounds this summer. Despite the brilliant sharp rooting of "Chappie" McFarland, who gave the visitors but a lonely tally during the rest of the struggle, the bombardment had its effect and Pittsburgh took the first of the series, 5 to 0.

Case was the undoing of the Cardinals. Four lonely smashes, one of them a triple, was the total inflicted on the youngest graduate of the Three I league. Perfect support back of the youngster aided considerably to his success, Wagner, Ritchey and Leach being his principal pillars.

Clarke taught his brood a lesson in baserunning in the second inning and incidentally tied the season's record made by "Topsy" Hartsel at Washington early in the season, by stealing home unassisted by his pals, and with the ball in the hands of the battery. It was some moments before the boldness of the Pirate leader struck the big Sunday crowd of fully 3,000 persons.

Case had gone out to Grady. Clarke beat a bunt to first and Beaumont was called safe on a close play from McFarland. Clarke was sensible enough to see the length of time "Chappy" consumed in preparing his delivery and gave to "Beau" the double steal signal. Fred was off with McFarland's arm and was so close to third when Warner got the ball that Jack threw to Arndt to get Beaumont.

Beaumont was called out, much to his disgust, but Clarke was safe on third. With two out and Leach, a poor hitter, at the plate, Clarke gradually edged away from third for a comfortable lead. McFarland was aiming carefully. Clarke took advantage of this and waited his opportunity. Leach was in the "three balls two strikes" dilemma with the chances against him. Suddenly a shout went up from the bleachers "Look at Clarke!" Coming up the third base line with the speed of the wind he was glued to the plate a few yards away, came the captain-manager. McFarland not anticipating such a move, was in the act of aiming himself for the throw.

When he spied the enemy, Clarke was a few feet from the plate. He threw, but what chance he had of napping "Brother Fred" was killed when Warner dropped the ball in the excitement.

The game was scarcely under way when the Pirates nailed the lid on the game so easily that all of the Cardinals' efforts to pry it open failed before they had scarcely budded. Clarke gave the faithful a shock by changing his batting list at the last moment and shifting his players. Taking the stick himself he "stoned" the ball to the left field foul line for three sacks. That was a surprise to the thousands of the spectators. Just one minute after Beaumont drove to deep center left and pulled up at third as Bratz chased the sphere to the fence. Clarke scored. Then Leach tapped to Thielman and the fans took courage, but when "Honus" Wagner smote the ball just where Jimmy Burke smashed it the day before, along the third base line for three bases, scoring Beaumont, the crowd grew impatient and looked longingly to the bench for relief. Howard drove the ball around for a single, and Hans danced over the plate with the third run. Clarke banged the ball and Howard scored. The score:

Chicago Slaughters Reds.

CHICAGO, June 25.—Chicago had a picnic with Cincinnati's pitchers today, every man on the team hitting safely and scoring. Harper probably received the hardest punishment of the season in the fifth inning, when eight singles, a triple and a home run were bunched, resulting in nine runs. Attendance, 11,500. Score:

SCHEDULE FOR TODAY.

Coatesville at Harrisburg.
Lancaster at Williamsport.
York at Johnstown.
Wilmington at Altoona.

Melchoir, the new right fielder, has been the find of the season for Johnstown. He's hitting and fielding in great shape and is one of the mainstays of the team.

Fritz Badel's clubbing the ball has had considerable to do with the winning of games by Johnstown this week.

"Kid" Hagen is back in the game again and this is good news to his friends. He is improving right along and Johnstown can use him all right.

When Tom Hughes joins the pitching staff the makeup of the Johnstown team will then be complete for the season. It's a bunch that will be in at the finish and stands a good chance for the pennant.

Red Owens is swatting the ball at a .500 clip for York, and the fans give the red one a hand every time he steps to the plate.

Coatesville and Altoona have played five extra inning games, two lasted 10 innings, one 11 innings, one 13 innings and one 15 innings, making a total of 14 extra innings. Coatesville won three and Altoona two.

Dick Tibbits now leads the Coatesville team with the bat. Tibbits had an offer from Louisville, and Capt. Billy Smith one from the Detroit American league team. Neither one accepted and they will stay in Coatesville the entire season.

Coatesville has released Shaughnessy. He has gone to Montpelier, Vt.

Altoona papers are a unit in commending the executive committee of the Tri-State in setting its foot upon rowdy ball playing and in upholding the action of President Creamer.

Peter Agnew of Harrisburg, who was benched until he got into condition, has returned after two weeks of hard training.

Harrisburg will not get McIlvaine, the crack State college pitcher, unless Williamsport grants his release. He does not want to play at Williamsport and has expressed a desire to play at Harrisburg. He is now at Sunbury.

With Broderick, Bonner, Calhoun and Lewis, Harrisburg has an infield that is not equaled anywhere in the Tri-State. The outfield is also very much in evidence in every game.

Cy Davis, a former Harrisburg twirler, has gone to Montpelier to play with the Northern league team of that place.

Hinton of Wilmington has practically recovered from the injury which put him out of the game for so long.

Frank Doolan will not play with Wilmington as announced.

Weigand still heads Williamsport's list, his average being .318.

Ritchie is the premier pitcher of the Williamsport team.

In Borger and Washer Lancaster has two good hitting pitchers.

"BROWNIE" GESSLER TO RETIRE FROM PROFESSIONAL BALL

"Brownie" Gessler, the local boy who is now playing first base for Brooklyn, will probably retire from professional baseball at the close of this season. Gessler was graduated from a medical college last spring and while he was here with Brooklyn last week he said he would go west this fall and visit his friend, Harry Duffy, once a well-known athlete at W. and J., who is now practicing medicine in Colorado. If Gessler likes the location he will retire from the diamond.

A college in Missouri wants Gessler to coach its football team this fall, and it is probable he will accept. This would be his last engagement in professional sports.

While discussing things in general with a bunch of friends he said: "Big league baseball is all right, but I think one is better off in a profession. You soon tire of the business, and then, there is no future in it."

W. U. P. TO MEET W. AND J. IN THE FALL

The Western University of Pennsylvania and Washington and Jefferson college, after years of strife, have agreed to again be friendly in athletics. It was announced that the football teams representing these institutions will meet at Exposition Park November 11.

It was also announced by Manager Joe Thompson that W. U. P. will play the University of Pennsylvania at Philadelphia November 18. W. U. P. has a game scheduled with Cornell for the coming season, and the schedule for the locals will thus be hard.

It was mostly through the energetic efforts of Thompson that peace was made with W. and J. Thompson has been working for some months to get on the W. and J. schedule, and he has made many trips to Washington with that purpose in view.

The schedule follows:
October 4—Grove City at Pittsburgh.
October 7—Westminster at New Castle.
October 14—California at Pittsburgh.
October 21—Cornell at Ithaca.
October 28—Dickinson at Pittsburgh.
November 1—Mt. Union at Pittsburgh.
November 4—Bethany at Pittsburgh.
November 7—F. and M. at Pittsburgh.
November 11—W. and J. at Pittsburgh.
November 18—U. of P. at Philadelphia.
November 25—Geneva at Beaver Falls.
November 30—State at Pittsburgh.

ORMISTON AND LOW WIN FROM BYERS AND BRAND

They Negotiate the Allegheny Country Club Course in 69 and the Losers in 71.

George A. Ormiston and Professional George Low defeated yesterday, at the Allegheny Country club, E. M. Byers and the club's professional, Fred Brand, by 2 up. The best shots were at the second hole when Byers laid a cleek dead for the hole for a 3 and Ormiston at the 16th, who approached dead and was down in 3.

Ormiston and Low won the first, both in 4. Byers the second, in 3. Byers and Brand the fifth in 4, Ormiston the 10th in 3, Ormiston and Low the 14th in 5 and Ormiston the 18th in 3.

Ormiston and Low had a 69 and Byers and Brand 71. The record is 74 and the bogey is 79. Their whole scores were:

Ormiston-Low—
Out ..... 4 4 3 4 5 4 3 4 4—35
In ..... 3 4 4 3 5 5 4 3 4—34—69

Byers-Brand—

In ..... 4 4 4 3 6 4 4 4 4—37—71

Low and Brand left last night for the open championship at Cincinnati.

R. E. Griscom of the Merion Cricket club is this year's individual champion of the Philadelphia Golf association. He defeated on Saturday H. W. Perrin, a former title holder, over the links at Haverford for the honor. He won by one stroke.

F. J. Sloan of Princeton's team defeated Jerome D. Travers on Saturday for the chief cup in Englewood's open tournament by 1 up in 36 holes.

Alex Smith, the Nassau Country club professional, reached home last Friday from the British open championship. He and Will Anderson may meet again next year.

No Game in Brooklyn.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., June 25.—There was no professional baseball played here today, although a game was scheduled for the New York and Brooklyn National league clubs at Washington park. The gates were thrown open and about 500 persons entered the grounds, but while the players from both teams were on hand none of them donned uniforms on account of the edict issued yesterday by Police Commissioner McAdoo. The game will be played next Thursday, the original date set in the season's schedule.

INDEPENDENT TEAMS ARE BUSY

Youngstown and Akron to Play in This Locality This Week. Collegians on a Trip.

SOMETHING ABOUT TOSSERS

There will be independent baseball in plenty this week in this locality. Marty Hogan will bring his champion Youngstown team to McKeesport today and tomorrow and he will shift to Homestead for Wednesday and Thursday. Hogan is fighting for the independent championship, and those who see his team play will witness fast baseball. The Akron team, which is raising all kinds of trouble in Ohio, will make its first appearance here, playing at Homestead today and tomorrow. Walter East of W. U. P. is captain, manager and second baseman on the Akron team, and he has some Pittsburgh boys with him. "Digs" Ortlieb, the catcher, and Bill Kommer, the pitcher, are on the team. "Red" Callahan, the fast Carnegie outfielder, is also a member of the team.

The Steubenville team will play at Braddock today and tomorrow. Wednesday and Thursday Butler will be at Braddock, Homestead furnishing the Saturday attraction.

The Pittsburgh Collegians leave today on a trip, playing at Washington and Waynesburg. Washington will be played today and Waynesburg tomorrow and Wednesday. Another game will be played with Washington on the way back to Pittsburgh. Friday will be taken up at Greensburg with the Elk team of that place and the week will be closed at McKeesport. The McKeesport game will be a hard one, as each team has won a game.

The Rochester Eastern league club wants Pitcher Bill Johnson of Homestead.

Dave Shelby, the veteran catcher on the Braddock team, says Don Doyle of the Pittsburgh Collegians has the best drop ball he ever saw.

Braddock looks like a championship probability. It has a fast infield in Keller, Porter, Sandherr and Edmundson. All these men can clout the ball.

Bennett, the McKeesport first baseman, gathers in foul flies as easy as any first baseman on the circuit.

John Mullin, the youngster who is umpiring at Homestead, is making good.

Pitcher Cannon, whom Waynesburg secured from the Wheeling club, has a sore arm and is unfit for work.

Charlie Duffy, the Pittsburgh college first baseman, who is playing with the Pittsburgh Collegians, is hitting better than ever.

George Hays, the Sharpsburg boy who was playing a good game at short for the Bridgeport team of the Connecticut State league, is laid up with a bad hip. He will be out of the game for at least two weeks. Hays is regarded as one of the best young infielders in the league.

Frank Zoch of Cornell joins the Pittsburgh Collegians today. He will get into the game tomorrow at Waynesburg. He will sit on the bench today.

Billy Evans of Youngstown is advocating a post series of games next fall between the winners of the Tri-State league and the Independent Association. Zanesville, Homestead, Akron and Youngstown, Evans thinks, will battle for the championship in the Independent association.

Core, the former West Virginia football player, who will play the outfield for Waynesburg, will coach the Waynesburg college football team next fall.

RACING CARS ARE NOW BEING SHIPPED HERE

Fast Machines for Brunots Island Motor Meet Are on Road to Pittsburgh.

One of the first of the big racing cars to arrive for the national championship motor races to be held at Brunots island race track next Wednesday and Thursday will be the Reo Bird. It was shipped Friday night from Lansing, Mich. Dan Wurgis, who is to drive it, was expected yesterday. The Reo Bird is a 32-horse power machine and is a corker. Wurgis fears no one in the Reo's class and the car comes to the Pittsburgh races right out of the shop. Keep your eye on the Reo.

Louis Chevrolet, the Frenchman who is to drive Maj. C. J. S. Miller's Fiat car, will leave New York tomorrow morning. Maj. Miller starts from there tonight. Mrs. Miller will come down from Franklin today and will drive her Royal Tourist here. She will be accompanied by Mrs. James F. Burke, at whose home the Millers will stay during the race meet. The Fiat car will be kept in Mr. Burke's barn.

W. N. Murray received word last night that the Pope-Toledo racers are being shipped. Both George and Charles Soules will be here to drive them. They will bring with them two mechanics.

The big tent on the infield of the race track goes up tomorrow. It will be a monster and will look as if Barnum & Bailey's circus is in town.

Horsemen are curious about the way the auto drivers make the turns, and a group of them were discussing this yesterday. George F. Fisher, the starting judge at Brunots Island, and who is one of the timers at the coming motor meet, said the auto drivers do not keep to the rail, but nearer the outside fences. They make the turns sharply opposite the focus of the ellipse. The speed is such that they make the angle on two wheels.

ONLY CREW THAT TAKES TO WATER SUNDAY

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., June 25.—Georgetown was the only crew that did any rowing today. Coach Bompas believing his men needed the practice too much to share the idleness of the other crews. The Washington eight went out about 5 p. m. and paddled north nearly to Crum Elbow. Returning the coach sent them two miles at racing speed against the tide. He took the time but did not make it known. Rowing men who had their first view of the Georgetown crew today spoke well of their form. Stuart, who has nearly recovered from his blisters, and Mudd, who is under a doctor's care, were in their usual places, at Nos. 4 and 5. There is little doubt that both will row in the race.

All of the other crews spent the day resting in quarters or walking in the country. The Pennsylvania crew attended church in Highland. The Rev. John J. Reed, at Trinity M. E. church, preached a special sermon to the Syracuse crews, who attended in a body, and wished them success in the coming race. The Georgetown men went to mass at St. Mary's church.

The all-absorbing topic in the rowing camps today was the fast time row of Cornell yesterday. There is as much reticence about the matter at Cornell quarters today as there was yesterday, but there is no denial of the published statement that the trial was considerably faster than the course record of 18:53 2-5, made by Cornell in 1901.

While Cornell stock is at a very high mark there are many who cling to the belief that the Syracuse crew, with six of last year's champions still in the boat, is enough better than last year to

POINTS LESSON FROM PHARISEE

President Hadley Warns Yale Seniors Against the Evils of Self-Complacency.

SAYS LIFE IS PROGRESS

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW HAVEN, CONN., June 25.—President Arthur T. Hadley of Yale this morning, delivered the annual baccalaureate address to the members of the senior class of the university at Woolsey hall. This afternoon and evening was spent in showing the visitors about the city and tomorrow morning the big influx of Yale men is expected. The program tomorrow will include meetings of the corporation, the law school alumni association and the presentation exercises of the senior class.

President Hadley's topic was the scriptural text, "Except your righteousness shall exceed the righteousness of the scribes and pharisees, ye shall in no case enter into the kingdom of heaven." He said in part:

"What was the essential characteristic of the righteousness of the scribes and pharisees? It was this: The scribes and pharisees made morality and even religion a matter of rules and conventions. They looked for nothing higher and cared for nothing better than a system of observances which they had inherited from their fathers. This system was not in itself a bad one.

"Why then does devotion to a good system of rules and observances, like that of the pharisees, lead its followers astray? Partly because the practice of relying upon rules and conventions, however good, lessens a man's power of meeting the unforseen emergencies and crises of life. Every man and every race which relies for protection on the text of the law rather than on its spirit is menaced by this risk of complete failure in emergencies.

"But even if no emergencies or crises arise, which stretch our rules to the breaking point, there is another and more insidious series of dangers which beset the man whose morality and religion are matters of rules alone. The keeping of definite rules produces self-satisfaction, and self-satisfaction is but one step short of moral stagnation.

"The sleep of conventionality is of all slumbers the most fatal. Life is progress—perpetual adaptation to new conditions. The self-satisfaction which leads a man to be content with the old is the beginning of death. The apparent excellence of a result actually attained, the mistakes and errors involved in imperfect efforts to advance to better results, must not be allowed to obscure our view of this truth. No man, however far and however well he has managed the voyage of life, can afford to rest complacent in what he has achieved.

"A man of bad antecedents and surroundings who recognizes they are bad, has higher possibilities than the man who lives under much better rules, but sees neither need nor room for improvement. For him whose ideals are ahead of his practice, even if that practice is low, there is always hope. For him who has sunk his ideals to the level of his practice, even if that practice is high, there is no hope at all.

"Gentlemen of the graduating class: To the college man more than to anyone else, this broad view of Christian duty should appeal. He, of all mankind, has least occasion for pharisaic complacency. The self-made man, who by his own efforts has risen from the bottom of the ladder, may have a certain amount of excuse for dwelling on his own achievements. Such as they are, he can at least claim them for his own.

"You can make no such claim. The life which you have lived and are going to live has been made possible for you by the efforts of your fathers. What you do represents for the most part not an achievement but an indebtedness, an indebtedness which, with God's help, you are going to repay by transmitting in turn to your sons the possibilities of wider life and more intelligent faith."

TELLS OF THE CONDITIONS CAUSING SODOM'S RUIN

Allegheny Pastor Declares Good Government and Care of Poor Will Save the Cities.

"Conditions That Wrought a City's Ruin" was the subject of the sermon delivered in the North End United Presbyterian church, Allegheny, yesterday morning by the pastor, the Rev. R. C. Douds. He took as his text Ezekiel xvi:40: "Behold this was the iniquity of Sodom; pride, fulness of bread and prosperous ease was in her and in her daughters; neither did she strengthen the hand of the poor and needy," and dwelling upon the necessity of good city government and proper care for the poor, said in part:

The story of the destruction of Sodom is told in Genesis. It is commonly supposed that the sin for which Sodom was destroyed was the sin of impurity. No doubt the social life of Sodom and become corrupt beyond description, and it was no doubt largely on account of this sin that the city was blotted out. But looking back on this event centuries afterward, Ezekial tells us what were the conditions that wrought such corruption in the life of the city that God was compelled to blot it off the face of the earth. He mentions three things especially—pride, idleness and neglect of the poor. No doubt Sodom had other sins, but these Ezekiel mentions as noteworthy.

There is a kind of pride in our city that is commendable. The citizens that can boast that their city is the cleanest, best governed, most moral city in the land may well be proud of that fact. But what were the citizens of Sodom proud of? Of her sin? If that was the only thing they had to distinguish them. And when a city becomes proud of its wickedness and its corruption that city is on the way to ruin.

Then idleness was the second great sin of Sodom. The idle classes, be they idle rich or idle poor, are a menace to the city. The city's great danger is not from the honestly employed, but from the dishonestly idle, for all voluntary idleness is dishonest.

The third great sin of Sodom was a negative sin—neglect of the poor. We are not accustomed to think of this sin as in the same class as the other great sins of Sodom. But God classes it there. Neglect of the poor. Sodom was destroyed not only for what she did, but for what she failed to do. She did not strengthen the hand of the poor and needy. There are said to be 10,000,000 poor in this country. Robert Hunter estimates that in New York city there are over 60,000 underfed school children. And yet such poverty as this exists in sight of the palaces of our multi-millionaires. Verily, we have not strengthened the hand of the poor and needy as we should. The neglect of the poor wrought the destruction of Sodom, and here is a condition that, if not remedied, constitutes one of the greatest menaces of our cities.

Grove City Summer Work.

Grove City, Pa., June 26, 1905.

The summer school of Grove City opens tomorrow, June 27. This session lasts eight weeks and embraces several departments, such as academic and collegiate studies, pedagogy, music, art, commercial branches, stenography and typewriting, etc.

The ninth annual session of the Bible conference will begin August 3 and continue until the 13th. OBEYING MORAL LAW THE CURE FOR CRIME

Pastor Says Protected Vice, Insurance and Labor Troubles Would Be Prevented.

Under the sermon theme, "Obeying the Moral Law," the Rev. Dr. Warren G. Partridge of the Fourth Avenue Baptist church yesterday morning told of the evils of protected vice, the crimes which rise from the conflicts between capital and labor and referred to the recent controversy in which the directorate of the Equitable Life Assurance Company became involved. He took his text from the commandments and said in part:

The seventh commandment protects the sacredness of marriage. A faithless husband or wife strikes a deadly blow at a divine institution. Under the laws of Moses death was the penalty, and in the Mosaic code adultery ranks with murder. The New Testament declares that this sin will result in the loss of the soul, while Jesus says that this sin has been committed in the heart by those who indulge in impurity of thought.

As this sin results in the loss of the soul, think of the awful responsibility of city officials who permit vice to run riot and allow the police or detectives to protect vice, and accept "graft," while society is committing spiritual suicide. Protected vice is one of the most horrible crimes against God and man.

The eighth command protects sacredness of property. We preachers need to still preach, even to church members, "Thou shalt not steal." This command prohibits dishonesty, cheating, fraud and trickery in daily business. Love to our neighbor would solve the problems of capital and labor. The capitalist steals who does not pay living wages. In the Chicago riots the strikers stole who injured the property of their employers. We have lately seen an object lesson in life insurance. It is the business of officials and directors of life insurance companies to look after the interests of the policy-holders. Think of the sacrifices in modest homes to carry life insurance. Rigid economy is often required for a life time. What a sin for rich men to handle these sacred funds in reckless extravagance, in wanton negligence, and in selfish greed for their own enrichment. We often hear about the dignity of manhood. We too often see that some rich men are hogs, and would rob widows and orphans. Life insurance and many other things should be furnished to the poor and common people at lower rates. Grasping, greedy, selfish and pitiless rich men who handle the people's money and rob them of their share of the profits are foes of society and foes of good government. Such rich men foster class hatred, social unrest, communism, and anarchy. No wonder that the victimized poor often feel like taking by force the ill gotten gains of these thieves and robbers.

We need more of the Golden Rule in daily business life. Christ said, "Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself." We will not rob our neighbor if we love him.

The sixth command prohibits murder. The first murder was the result of envy. Greed today leads some corporations to commit murder. In many cities the street cars are modern cars of Juggernaut. The car of Juggernaut has sixteen wheels and sometimes fanatics throw themselves under the wheels as willing victims of the idol. But street cars without fenders are cars of Juggernaut to kill helpless children of hard-working fathers and mothers of the common people. Would it lessen the dividend of the rich if proper fenders were placed immediately upon the street cars in Pittsburgh? Other cities have used such fenders for many years and have thereby saved hundreds of precious lives.

New Church is Opened.

The new McKinley Park Presbyterian church, Chalfont and Belmont streets, was opened for the first time yesterday afternoon when special services in the form of children's day exercises were held. Addresses were made by William C. Lilley, W. A. Boothe and the Revs. B. J. Brown, pastor of the congregation, and W. A. Jones, pastor of the Knoxville church, which for five years sustained the Montooth mission, from which the church was created. The new building has been erected at a cost of $8,000 and will be dedicated next month.

Church to Be Remodeled.

The last service until September 3 was held yesterday morning in the Second Presbyterian church. The building will be closed during July and August to permit general remodeling. The Sunday school rooms in the rear are to be enlarged and so arranged as to open into one another. The auditorium is also to be supplied with disappearing doors in the rear of the pulpit, so that a far greater congregation can be accommodated on special occasions.

Celebrates 16th Anniversary.

The sixteenth anniversary of the dedication of the present edifice of the First Methodist Episcopal church, Braddock, was celebrated yesterday with special services. The pastor, the Rev. W. P. Turner, D. D., was assisted by the Rev. Arthur Staples, president of Beaver college, who preached both morning and evening. The church was dedicated during the pastorate of the Rev. T. N. Boyle, D. D. The pastors who have followed since are the Rev. J. F. Jones, deceased, the Rev. J. W. Miles, the Rev. S. T. Mitchell, the Rev. N. N. Holmes and the present pastor, the Rev. Dr. Turner.

PASTOR LEADS FLOCK OUT OF HOT CHURCH

PARKERSBURG, W. VA., June 25.—"I will not permit my congregation to swelter in a hot church listening to me preach," announced the Rev. Dr. Carey Calder of the First Baptist church today. "It is not right to ask people to make themselves uncomfortable in order to hear the word of God. It is entirely too hot indoors." All filed out, and the services were held out-doors under the shade of the trees in the church yard.

CAMPAIGN TO CHANGE WALL STREET SENTIMENT

Though Not Entirely Successful, the New Movement in the Stock Market Made Fair Initial Progress the Past Week.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, June 25.—Wall street has witnessed during the last week what may properly be regarded as the incipient stage of a campaign planned for the purpose of changing sentiment, and incidentally enriching those who are behind the movement. Though not entirely successful, fair initial progress was made. A somewhat limited group of stocks, in which large lines have been accumulated by those in the game, were made active, and prices were worked up to a higher level. Business, however, was wholly professional, and in respect to the main object of drawing the public in, very little headway appears to have been made.

Of course, it is altogether too early to pronounce upon the success or failure of the campaign, or to determine whether or not it is well timed. In the first place the movement is only just beginning, and several factors other than sentiment alone must of necessity be determined before a successful outcome is assured. The crops are of course the chief of these unknown elements. Their condition at the present time is favorable, and upon this, doubtless, is predicted the hope of a highly successful distributive movement. This, of course, is the object of all stock market campaigns, and to achieve the main purpose it is as important that favorable sentiment be worked up as it is that conditions be of a favoring nature.

Financial markets have heard much of "psychological movements" during the last year, and no one will deny the very important part which sentiment plays in the speculative movement. Repeatedly in the past Wall street has seen good crops, good business, abundant and cheap money, and with all these factors favorable a dejected public and a stagnant or declining stock market. Such conditions generally prevail after some panic, or as a result of some specific deception, some disclosure of dishonesty in high quarters, or the like, which results in the loss of confidence. Such conditions are merely temporary awakenings on the part of the public to the uncertainties of speculation. When men, after a long interval of inactivity, become tired of doing nothing, or when time works forgetfulness of past disasters and deceptions, they turn again to the hazardous game, with the chances all in their favor of being trimmed up in like fashion as before.

It will be generally admitted that there has been sufficient in recent developments to put the public out of conceit with the stock market. Just at the time when all the oracles of the street were proclaiming that prices had no top, the market collapsed. That in itself should provide an object lesson to over-credulous persons, even if they suffered no losses. Then came the long array of scandalous developments in corporate affairs, the Bigelow defalcations at Milwaukee, and the failure of several banks and trust companies, all as a result of the use of funds in speculation by trusted officials. Following hard upon these disclosures, calculated to unsettle the public mind and incidentally to emphasize the fact of how woefully bank officials can be at fault in speculative ventures, syndicate operations, and the like, preceding these disclosures, in fact and in continuing after them, has been the constant outpouring of unpleasant developments in the Equitable Life Assurance society.

There has been in all this, and particularly with the Equitable Life affair, which from the great importance of the institution, its enormous resources and surplus, and the peculiarly delicate position that it occupies by countless poor persons, much that has been disturbing the community.

Nor is this feeling of disquietude likely to pass away speedily, and in this latter fact one finds the motive for a campaign to change public sentiment independent of any other consideration. But other considerations exist, and they are well known to be existent, and among them unquestionably is the desire to get stock market enthusiasm aroused in order to find a market for wares. One cannot regard the enormous expansion of loans, not only in the institutions of the city, but of the country, as reported by the controller of the currency, without realizing that the country is again making very heavy demands on credit.

It is very generally understood in financial circles that a part of a campaign to change sentiment and distribute stocks, includes a determination upon the part of coalesced bankers to increase dividends of certain railroads.

If, as a result of improved business railway dividends are increased, that is one thing. A nicer sense of propriety would even in that case probably point out that one of the administration should hold his hands off and take an equal chance with the general shareholders, to whom probably he will sell, when the others are buying. However, Wall street is far from the millennium and the system of inner pools, campaigns to change sentiment and distribute stock will probably continue as long as Wall street lasts.

One can scarcely doubt, however, that is from such quarters, that manipulators receive their information, and that the mass of stories which work up market crazes are indirectly traceable to the same fountain head. It is well to recollect even now that prices are not cheap, and that a few dividends increased possibly to make a market to distribute stock, does not warrant a craze. Had the present market started with bonds and investments it would have been more highly commended.

WANTS SEED INVESTIGATION.

Contractor Asks President to Look Into the Purchases Made by Agricultural Department.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—(Special.)—C. A. Nellis of New York, under date of June 22, has forwarded to President Roosevelt a letter asking for an investigation of the purchase of seeds by the agricultural department for free distribution.

Mr. Nellis was contractor for the supply of seeds to the agricultural department. This distribution formerly cost between $100,000 and $106,000. It has recently expanded until the appropriation made for the fiscal year beginning July 1, next, amounts to $246,920. The distribution was formerly confined entirely to garden seed such as wheat, corn, peas, beans, beets, celery, lettuce and other such vegetables. Lately it has included fancy flowers, grapevines, fruit trees, orchids and all sorts of luxuries of the lawn and piazza.

WANT ONLY UNION MEN.

United Labor League Wants "Hump" Work Done by Unionists.

At a meeting of the United Labor league at its headquarters, 535 Smithfield street, last night, the league decided to make a special effort to have only resident mechanics and union men employed on "hump" removal work. J. A. Bacharach, Henry Legleitner, J. J. Gallagher, George H. Driver and John Fernau, president of the league, were appointed a committee to confer with Mayor Hays and Director Bigelow this week.

If the mayor and director favor the suggestions which the committee will make, an ordinance will be prepared covering the league's proposition, and presented to councils. The committee goes to the conference with the mayor and director practically unInstructed. The last ordinance presented by the league in the "hump" matter failed.

SCORCH THROUGH PARK AND ARE ARRESTED

Autoists Speed Along Boulevard With Larder Which Makes Officers' Mouths Water.

Equipped with a basket containing cracked ice, four bottles of wine, two quarts of whisky, a syphon of soda, 12 bottles of beer and endowed with speed which caused the park policemen to race madly after them in an endeavor to stop them, three residents of Braddock in an automobile of the latest design swept along the boulevard bordering Carnegie lake yesterday afternoon, spreading terror among pedestrians and horsemen. They were finally brought to a halt by Sergeant Meenan and sent to the East End police station.

At the station house they gave the names of A. Wargo, John Fisher and George Vargo, and stated they thought speeding was permitted in the park. They were well supplied with cash, and when the forfeits of $15 each were demanded the amount was put up in gold coin.

While the chase after the autoists was in progress four Greeks—Paul Babovich, Anton Hudo, Emil Robish and John Guyou—were engaged in a quiet game of cards in the shade of the park trees, where they were seen by Sergeant Meenan on his return from capturing the autoists. The game was stopped and the quartet placed under arrest. Four friends—John Reunock, Joseph Commit, Joseph Covask and Joseph Vernosky—were locked up for interfering with the officers. At the station house forfeits for the appearance of the party were paid by Hudo, who removed his shoe, from which he took a roll of bills amounting to over $100.

REVIEW OF THE WEEK IN THE LOCAL MARKETS

Unexpected Cut in Sugar Is Said to Be Forerunner of a War Among Big Refiners.

The past week in the local markets was one of the best the dealers have enjoyed for a month. Produce men along Liberty avenue state that the business for June will be greater than for any three months during the winter. This state of affairs has made all of them feel extremely pleasant, as trade had been unusually dull for the time of year.

The feature of the week was the unexpected cut in sugar, coming just at the time when wholesale dealers who are not in the secrets of the refiners were all expecting a sharp advance. The real secret of the cut is not yet known. It was just a sudden 50 point drop. Further reductions are looked for, as there is a hint that there is trouble brewing and the big combinations of refiners are preparing to fight it out. It is claimed that the cut was entirely due to the fear of foreign competition, but it is also broadly stated that there is an impending sugar war and the public will get the benefit of a battle among the big refiners.

Flour held its own all week, although shading is going on all around from present quotations. The speculative price of wheat is all that is holding it up. The northwestern millers are practically doing no business, as buyers refuse to purchase except for a hand-to-mouth business, none of them caring to accumulate any stock.

Green goods and produce were strong all week, prices advancing generally. The last of the strawberries are coming in, and, strange to say, the nicest berries of the season are arriving now. Raspberries, dewberries and blackberries have arrived in plenty. Another new arrival in the market is green apples. They came from the south and are being eagerly sought.

HAY AND GRAIN.

Receipts Saturday were: Pennsylvania lines, 17 cars hay, 12½ cars oats, 2½ cars corn, 1 car feed, 1 car straw; Baltimore & Ohio, 1 car oats, Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, 1½ cars oats, 1½ cars corn, 1 car hay.

Heavy receipts of hay and a large stock on hand knocked the bottom out of the hay market last week, and there was but little doing in that line all week. The last couple of days' demand improved, and stock was depleted, as receipts ran down. The result was a better feeling and hope for better prices. Grain was in a strong market all week and prices advanced on the strength of western advances. Millfeed is draggy and sales are harder to make, concessions being allowed to secure them. The demand for straw has improved. Corn is strong and scarce. There was a marked improvement in all lines as the week closed.

STRUGGLE FOR LIFE WITH AN INFURIATED BULL

Farm Hand Is Found Unconscious and Probably Fatally Hurt, but Gripping Ring in Brute's Nose.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

NEW CASTLE, June 25.—Injured in a struggle with an infuriated bull, J. H. McClure, aged 60 years, was brought to the hospital here this afternoon suffering from wounds that may result fatally. His fight for life occurred at noon today at the home of ex-County Commissioner William Y. Gibson of Shenango township, while the family was at church.

McClure was attending to the stock and led the bull from the barn for water. The animal suddenly attacked him. McClure was knocked down. The bull gored him and one of its horns penetrated McClure's side, puncturing his lung. He also received a long gash on the left side of his face, five ribs were broken, and he suffered great injury from the animal's hoods about his abdomen.

While being trampled upon McClure managed to clutch the ring in the bull's nose. This he held and kept the animal's horns away from his body. When the Gibson family came home McClure was found lying unconscious in a stall, still with a grip on the ring in the bull's nose. McClure recovered consciousness at the hospital, but is hardly expected to survive.

In the Oil Fields.

Developments in the lower southwest fields during the past week furnished nothing out of the ordinary in the way of new discoveries. The number of completions fell below that of the previous week and the average size was somewhat smaller. The efforts for new producing territory in West Virginia were no more encouraging than has been the experience for many weeks. The very little success that has been attained along that line for so many months would be sufficient to discourage any further endeavors were not oil operators the most tenacious of any lot of men engaged in a great industry.

Since the first of the year there have been times when the prospects for opening a new pool or finding extenstons to some of the old fields have been encouraging and stimulated a renewed search, but the new work that was expected to bring the desired results was no sooner begun and hurried to completion than dry holes were encountered and hopes dissipated.

At the first of the present year it was thought there was sufficient undeveloped deep sand territory in at least four counties to keep operators fairly busy throughout the entire year. The first half of the year has almost expired and finds work in the deep sand districts fallen off more than one half and no new territory in sight. The work of that class is now confined almost exclusively to drilling in odd locations that were passed over during the more active period of development. In nearly every instance the result can be anticipated in advance of completion, and it is a question whether the old wells would not in time exhaust the producing formation without additional wells. However, there seems to be no other means by which operators can make any pretence to holding up their declining production. Shooting the old wells has been very generally practiced in all fields. In most instances the result has been gratifying, but it is only of a temporary benefit for the wells soon decline and as a rule fall to a lower level in production than before they were shot. To get more production by developing new pools would be more attractive if the territory was available. The decline in the market was a discouraging feature, but not to so great an extent as might be supposed. This has been several times demonstrated during the year when it was thought new fields had been discovered. The best illustration that there is capital and energy waiting for investment lies in the new fourth sand discovery west of Butler. When the McBride well was drilled in and proved a gusher with good staying qualities, old and conservative operators did not hesitate when it looked good. They met the demand for bonus money with as much eagerness as though it was assured producing territory in every direction from the initial well. The developments that have since followed are of too recent date to need repeating.

West of Mannington, Marion county, W. Va., the 30-foot development was a disappointment, although there was not nearly so much money invested prior to its development. The most of the territory had been under lease before the well in the Pitzer farm was drilled in, so that there was less opportunity for investment. A vast amount of money has been expended in development work. It is deep drilling and the outlay is very heavy. The first wells completed gave promise of possessing good lasting qualities, but as the number increased the production of the first fell off rapidly, and at the present time there is but one well in the pool that can lay claim to a production of 100 barrels a day.

The average production of all the wells completed and producing probably does not exceed 20 barrels a day. The limits of the producing area of the pool have been circumscribed by dusters and not a few of the latter kind have been found inside of what is regarded the producing limits. The farms that have furnished paying producing wells do not number more than six. There is no longer an effort making to extend the producing limits of the pool, and when the wells now drilling in the interior shall have been completed work in that once promising pool will end.

The Gordon sand development, on Salem Fork, Harrison county, has been as much of a disappointment. More than 20 wells have been completed in that district and none as good as the first. Recently the duster list has had many acquisitions from that quarter. In the fifth sand development on Kincheloe creek operations have been nearly abandoned. The various gas companies are quite active in the development of Harrison county territory, and may be fortunate enough to discover a new pool.

The Berea grit development on Yellow creek, Calhoun county, still holds the lead in active work and the average size of the new wells. This has been the most profitable territory under development during the year. To the northeast operators are still finding some very satisfactory producers and it is in that locality that the greater part of the new work is now starting. The search for extensions in other directions or with a view to finding new pools has not materialized. Near Big Root creek the Lowther-Kaufman Oil and Coal Company completed a test on the Hardman tract during the week and got a duster in all sands. The Cow Run sand development that was confidently expected, in the same locality, has proven a failure and work has been practically abandoned.

On the Ohio side, there are two new developments that are attracting some attention. The most important is the Berea grit development, on Wells creek, Jefferson county. During the week Castner Bros. completed another well on the Bluck farm and got a 60-barrel producer. In the same district Freudenberger & Co. completed a test on the Vaughn farm and got a 20-barrel producer. That there is faith in the territory is evidenced by the four or five new wells starting.

The other discovery is located in Guernsey county and is a Berea grit formation. It is located on the O. B. Hibbs farm, four miles southwest of Piedmont, and is producing 21 barrels a day. In the past there had been some test wells drilled in that locality, but they showed very light. One of these old wells will be cleaned out and tested. There is also a little new work contemplated for the near future.

Developments in the fourth sand pool, west of Butler, do not tend to brighten the outlook for bringing the territory into favor. During the week the two wells on the Waldron farm were shot and both responded with something like their first production. This was no surprise for the reason that the shot naturally increased the flow of gas and the flow of oil followed.

To the southwest the No. 2 on the Schlagel 20 acres, the disputed lease, was drilled in and the result is a 20-barrel pumper. A bonus of $4,500 was paid for this piece and it looks now as though it was scarcely worth contesting the right of title.

The northeast has not yet been defined and it is that direction that interest alone centers. If the producing lines can be advanced in that direction the purchasers of the McBride well and leases stand to make a winning. If the northeast fails then there will be different showing from that anticipated.

BIGELOW GETS NEW PARK IDEAS

Big Crowds Give Him Inspiration for New Trees and More Animals.

ZOO'S LARGEST AUDIENCE

"'Rubber-neck wagons,' new shade trees for the parks and more animals for the zoo," mused Director Bigelow yesterday as he reposed in his hammock and watched 20,000 happy people passing his Highland avenue residence on their way to spend an afternoon in the parks. Bright sunshine, an azure sky studded with fleecy clouds and a radiant landscape had fitted his mind for the day dream which he enjoyed.

"'Rubber-neck wagons'—New York has them and so should Pittsburgh. The people who come here from strange places should have some means of knowing something of the great city which they behold."

Nobody heard the director say this. The day was too pleasant, or there may have been some other reason for his desire to be excused from talking for publication with a sort of a triple expansion smile, but he communicated his long desire for sight-seeing vehicles, which the Gothamites call the "rubber-neck wagon," and expressed his desires on further park beautification.

"Columbus grove in Schenley park has but a very scanty supply of trees," said the director's smile. "We need more trees all over town. We need them around the Carnegie institute and there is a chance for each Founder's day honor guest to plant a sapling which shall grow up in memory of the brilliant gatherings which have been held there. If this had been done in former years around the building would be a McKinley tree, a Cleveland tree, a Whitelaw Reid tree, a Carnegie tree, a Morley tree and half a dozen others. The first week of November is not too late to plant a hardy oak.

"If there are 20,000 people going to the zoo today," said the smile, "we shall see twice that number next week. Howard Eaton's new buffalo will arrive from the North Dakota ranch and then there will be a real attraction for the youngsters. Ten years hence Highland park will be the eastern Yellowstone, when it comes to locating the buffalo's habitat."

And the smile talked on for some time in the same strain and gave a boost to everything connected with Pittsburgh's breathing spots. He had not overestimated the size of the crowds. It was one of the largest audiences the animals at Highland park had ever played to. At Schenley park the numbers were less, but judged as a promenade of summer fashions, it rivaled the display of Easter finery. Rapid progress is being made for the Fourth of July celebration and the sheds for the fireworks on Golf House hill soon will be ready. It was announced yesterday that the new race course would be ready for autumn races.

The music of a concert band and that of cheery voices made the air of Kennywood ring yesterday, for there were immense crowds at the resort from morning until late in the evening. W. H. Maddock, the equilibrist, is the feature attraction this week. He is doing a combination act, which includes hand balancing, tumbling and balancing on a ladder which is supported by a slack wire, the whole surrounded by fireworks. Rocereto's concert band acquitted itself in admirable shape. There were several solos by members of the organization and the descriptive numbers were well received.

There were good-sized crowds at Calhoun, Oakwood and Southern parks yesterday. The concerts were among the best of the season, there being three concert bands, instrumental and vocal soloists, a quartette and other entertainers. Director Dolin and his Homestead Library band made their first appearance at the parks this season at Calhoun. Cliff Farrel, a musical comedian; Miss Alice Lewis, vocalist, and Eastley, Moody and James, clever singers and comedians, were also on the program. At Oakwood park the Knights of Pythias band gave two popular programs. Pupa's Royal Italian band, a new organization, was at Southern park.

The bills at Oakwood and Southern park theaters for this week comprise four headline vaudeville acts and the Cineograph. At Oakwood park are Gavin, Platt and "Peaches," presenting "A Stolen Kid"; Jones and Sutton, refined singers and dancers; Howard and Linder, German comedians, and Madeline Burdette, balladist. The following are on the program at Southern: Duffy, Sawtelle and Duffy, in the playlet "Papa's Sweetheart"; Cherry and Bates, sensational comedy cyclers; Demanio and Bell, contortionists; Andrew McLeod, the "Irish Minstrel," and the Cineograph.

SUNDAY GAZETTE BRINGS JOY TO COUNTLESS READERS

Contains Facts and Fancies in Endless Variety, and Covers the News from All Corners of the Globe.

What kind of reading do you like for Sunday? Does your fancy turn to fiction or are you more inclined to those stately articles on scientific research? No matter which your hobby, The Sunday Gazette stands ready to gratify it. That is one of The Sunday Gazette's chief charms. It is fitted out to meet every whim. Yesterday's great paper went into thousands of homes and satisfied thousands of readers. The "infinite variety" of its columns was largely commented upon. There was something for father, a special column for mother, a few facts and fancies for sister and heaps of fun, well sprinkled with homely, wholesome instruction for the small boy. Catherine M. Patterson had an intensely interesting story called "By Mutual Consent." Col. A. K. McClure told of his battle with President Grant. There was a department devoted to gowns for summer sports, and all of the news of the foreign world was succinctly related. The Sunday Gazette's real estate department is becoming more valuable to business men every week. They are coming to regard it as a gazetteer of all that is useful in the business world. As for the news columns of yesterday's Gazette they took one into every walk of life, into every land on which the sun shines, and not a single detail was overlooked in any item.

Peace negotiations between Japan and Russia have come to a full stop and neither side is now willing to agree to an armistice. The people of France are still talking of war with Germany, but the government and diplomats are agreed that there is not sufficient grounds to resort to war. Rioting which began at Warsaw was resumed at Lodz, and many victims were added to an already large list of casualties. The bubonic plague has made its appearance on the Panama canal strip.

Dr. Edward Curtis, former medical director of the Equitable Life Assurance society, denied that he is drawing a salary from the society, but Paul Morton declared he gets $10,000 annually. Judge Tanner, Senator Mitchell's law partner, gave evidence tending to show that the senator did not know of the questionable business methods of the firm. President Shea threatened a general walk-out of 30,000 union teamsters and the union may demand his resignation immediately. The sheriff of St. Louis declared if Gov. Folk sent militia to stop race track gambling that the soldiers would be arrested. Francis B. Loomis, assistant secretary of state, sailed for Europe on a secret mission. Walter Wellman, in an article on the revelations of graft in the Equitable, outlined the questions concerning the society which the people want answered. Vice President Fairbanks visited the turnfest and paid a high compliment to the delegation of gymnasts from Germany. President Roosevelt was urged to take steps to prevent the threatened boycott of American goods by Chinese merchants. Samuel Horace Disston, son of a wealthy saw manufacturer, wedded a house painter's daughter, despite the expostulations and threats of his father. Some Beaver county Democrats expressed opposition to Col. J. M. Guffey's fusion plans.

Director Bigelow will submit to councils today a compromise plan on the hump cut. The Republican committee will meet July 15 to fix on party rules. Nattie W. McLean again lost her suit to recover half interest in Colonial Trust stock held by the late J. O. Brown. Evangelist Kelly entered general denials in his wife's suit for divorce. Descendants of the commander of old Fort Duquesne sought to locate his grave.

The Pirates were defeated by the Reds, 8 to 2, and dropped back into third place. Cy Seymour is still the leading National league batsman, with Hans Wagner and "Husky" Chance of Chicago close on his heels. The Cleveland Blues were given a brass band reception on their return home and then were ignominiously whipped by the tail-enders from St. Louis. There are many lively doings in pugilistic circles and many fights are scheduled for the near future. Secretary Locke denied any knowledge of a deal for the exchange of McBride for Dave Hall. The American tennis team has been picked to win the International challenge cup in the games now being played in England.

Weakness in foreign markets checked the advance in New York and prices averaged slightly lower. Pittsburg Coal preferred broke 5 points to New York. The weekly bank statement was favorable, cash reserves increasing more than $6,000,000. Wheat was weak.

Our Annual

INVENTORY SALE OF CLOTH GOODS

Starts Tomorrow

Before the July "stock-taking" there is much to be done toward getting the different lines down to the desired basis. In the cloth goods the stock reducing process must be waged with especial earnestness.

Therefore we offer:

SUITS WHICH FORMERLY SOLD AT $40, $50, $60 AND $75

NOW $20, $25 AND $30.

The newest imported summer cloths, Cecilians, Panamas and lightweight English suitings.

May we urge you to let the opportunity have your earliest attention?

THE INVENTORY SALE OF MILLINERY

will be equally attractive, offering the newest things produced for this season at a great deal less than former value.

The reduced prices will also prevail on summer hats made to your special order. We are in position now to give such orders prompt attention.
